Mr. Greeley in the Davis Case.

If the way of transgressors is hard, that of philanthropy cannot be said to be easy. Horace Greeley's philanthropy in the Davis case has placed him in a not very desirable position. People generally think he means all right, yet some will reflect that Mr. Davis's war on the Union cost Horace neither son, brother or father; that he lost neither arm or leg in the conflict; that his breathing is in no way impeded by a partially healed wound; that he never had an Andersonville dinner or a Belle Isle bed, or that he did make $100,000 by writing a book on the war; that if Mr. Davis had made no rebellion, Mr. Greeley would have written no record of it; that when Davis gets $5,000, Horace will still have $95,000, and that, maybe, without knowing it, of course, Mr. Greeley may find it easier to forgive injuries done to others than he would find it to pardon similar injuries, if done to himself. It is but right to say that Mr. Greeley denies that he thrust himself into this business; he says he offered to go Davis's bail "because the leading counsel for the prisoner thought it important." He says further, that "if any other name would have answered as well, they would not have proffered mine." "I only know that they would not have required me to face this deluge of mud if they had not believed it necessary." Mr. Greeley was convinced Davis could not be tried by a jury in Virginia that would do him justice, which being the case, he thought there could be nothing so proper as letting him out on bail. We infer that Mr. Greeley does not expect any further proceedings will be had in the case.

The Eight Hour Movement.

The eight hour movement seems to be in great danger of speedily becoming historical, or, in other words, of passing, as a practical movement, into dream-land and oblivion. It reached the transition point from theory to practice, from agitation to experiment, at an unfortunate moment; that is, at a time when the supply of labor was fully equal to the demand, if not in excess of it. Had the Illinois law been enacted when two million of men in the United States were employed in war, and of course withdrawn from the ordinary industrial pursuits, perhaps it might have had the run of a few months of success. But at present, when these two million men are seeking and finding their positions in the productive industry of the country, the experiment could not but be a failure. A single fact will illustrate this. A business house advertised for an employee—a clerk to be employed in a business that had no special attraction of ease or of pay, and before noon of the first day, eighty applications were made for the situation, and before the first day passed, no less than one hundred and nineteen persons, presumed to be qualified and desiring the employment, had applied for it. It is not probable that one out of the whole number, would have raised the eight hour question in arranging for the place.

Trouble in Italy.

There are indications of trouble in Italy. Garibaldi has gone to a Tir National, at Cremona, exactly as he did in 1862, previous to the expedition which culminated at Aspromonte. Ratazzi was Minister of State then, by the way. Speaking of Ratazzi, that statesman is in an unpleasant position. His wife, the ex-Princess de Solms, a cousin of Napoleon, who made herself very disreputably notorious during her first husband's lifetime, has written a book called "Bicheville," which shows up Florentine society so unmistakably that the husbands, brothers and lovers of the injured ladies named, or indicated in the book, have called the husband of the authoress to account, and in spite of a formal amende honorable in the paper, sixteen challenges have been sent in—not from rash boys, but from gray-bearded soldiers and senators. One was from the Marquis of Pepoli, and was carried by Count Arese and General Cialdini. A jury of honor was called to decide whether the Prime Minister was bound to fight, and to-day it is announced that a meeting has taken place and that Pepoli was slightly wounded. Ratazzi, then, has only fifteen more to dispose of.

A Sumter Reminiscence.

A Charleston letter says: One of the deck hands of our steamer had been a rebel soldier, and had participated in the defense of Sumter. Speaking of the bombardment of the fleet as we passed it, he said, "the Yankees never came so near taking it as they did on the first or second day of the attack—he thought it was the 30th of August, 1863. He remembered very well when one of the Yankee shells went right into the ammunition room of the fort and exploded. The room was full of shells, and it was the greatest wonder in the world the whole thing wasn't blown up. There were a hundred and thirteen thousand pounds of powder in the fort that day, and the garrison expected every moment to see it set on fire by a Yankee shell. But the fleet drew off early that day, and gave us a chance to fix up. We sent most of the powder to Charleston that night, and when the fleet renewed the attack two or three days after, we were better prepared than ever for them, and we gave them the best we had." There is not a gun visible now upon Sumter. It looks peaceable enough, and is well adapted to the use to which it has been converted since the war—that of a light-house site.

THE GREAT BLUNDER.—A Charleston correspondent to the Boston Advertiser says: "It was the worst blunder we ever made," said a prominent citizen, in talking about the manner in which the South had followed the President—"in pinning our faith to him we made a greater mistake than in seceding." I laughed at him for his strong language, but he declared he was in sober earnest; and then added that he had but expressed the average view of two-thirds of the thinking men of the city. "Following him has well nigh proved our ruin," he continued, "and you'll not find much resistance to Congress anywhere in this State." Another gentleman, who has been in public life for at least twenty years, says that ex-Governor Perry is the only man of any standing who opposes reconstruction on the military plan—and I notice that many persons give this gentleman the same name that Colonel Forney's paper give to the President—"His Accidency."

PRIVATE distilling as well as private drinking of whisky is the order of the day in New York. The Treasury Department, it is understood, has given instructions to the internal revenue collectors to take the proper steps for putting an end to the illicit manufacture of whisky, by removing and destroying the stills. There are dozens of these establishments, turning out from one to two barrels per day, and from this source, there is reason to believe, a majority of the saloons are supplied. All endeavors hitherto for breaking up this contraband trade have proved ineffectual, but Uncle Sam is now resolved to put his foot down. The temperance cause, as well as the revenue, will be the gainer. The whisky these fraudulent stills are in the habit of turning out is the vilest stuff imaginable. The respectable dealers are in favor of breaking them up, though they will be obliged to advance the price of good liquor.

THE correspondent of the London Herald, writing from St. Petersburg, speaking of the Russia-American cession to the United States, says: How far circumstances unconnected with religion may favor the introduction of orthodoxy into America, I have no means of knowing, but many persons think that the Episcopalian and the Greek churches are more likely to unite there than anywhere else. The Russians have left several churches in the settlement they have just ceded to the Americans, a great many natives have been converted to the Greek faith, and it is possible that in those distant regions members of both Churches (Greek and Protestant) may worship in the same temple. This may tend to the extension of orthodoxy in America, but that it will lead to a union of the Churches is very doubtful.

IN the Supreme Court of the United States it seems to have been settled that the United States notes of the precise number of dollars contracted to be paid for in gold will settle a debt incurred before the suspension of specie payments in January, 1861. The suit of Thompson against Riggs, just decided at Washington, was to recover a coin deposit. The defendant was discharged upon the payment of an equal amount in Treasury notes. A special contract to repay in gold was not proved in the case before the Court, although it was assumed that such was the custom when gold deposits were made.

ANTIDOTES TO STRYCHINE.—It would seem, as the result of a long series of experiments conducted by Professor Bellini, that the best antidotes against this poison are tannic acid and tannin, chlorine and the tinctures of idoine and bromine. The agents do not, however, act chemically on the poison, but only through the astringent effects produced by the acid on the mucous or inner surface of the stomach.

SOME weeks since the wife of a respectable citizen of Troy died, after a brief illness, leaving her husband something like $5,000, which she had carefully saved from money which came into her possession, and of the existence of which the husband was entirely ignorant. Through a long life she had been a faithful wife and valuable helpmate, and in death even was faithful still.

THE SCULLING RACE.

Walter Brown Versus James Hamill.

A CLOSE CONTEST SO LONG AS IT WAS FAIR.

Brown Jockey's Hamill and the Latter Claims the Race.

Brown Claims He Fairly Won the Race.

QUESTION BEFORE THE JUDGES.

Referee to Decide This Morning.

Hamill's Statement of the Affair.

The much-talked of contest for the aquatic championship of American waters took place yesterday afternoon between Walter Brown, of Portland, Maine, and James Hamill, of this city, over the Monongahela course. By noon the Monongahela wharf, the suspension bridge, the steamboats at the wharf, the opposite banks of the river, and the hill-tops were occupied by immense throngs of people, the number present being variously estimated from twenty thousand to thirty thousand. The river was thickly dotted with craft of all kinds, from the tiniest shell to the safer yawl, all of which were filled to their utmost capacity. No event of a similar character has ever attracted so many people to the city to witness it, the trains on all the roads bringing up large numbers from the adjacent and even remote villages along their respective lines.

THE BETTING.

More or less betting on the result prevailed on Monday evening and yesterday morning, the odds being largely in favor of the champion, Hamill. A few sanguine friends of the champion had wagered two to one on him, but the average odds given were five to four. As a general rule, all bets offering odds on Hamil were taken, and not one even bet was made that could be heard of. The foolish letter of Brown, shortly after his arrival here, about the unfairness of the course, had an injurious effect upon his friends, and there were none present disposed to back him evenly.

A DAMPENER.

About two o'clock, the clouds which had been gathering ever since noon, commenced to pour down a steady rain, which was kept up until after three o'clock, when the weather cleared up. A slight wind ensued, and the water was so agitated that "white caps" were formed. Half-past three, rain again commenced falling, and, as before, the crowd rushed to every convenient shelter. At this time appearances were decidedly against a race, the weather being of so unfavorable a character that a postponement, it was thought, would be ordered.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE RACE.

About three o'clock, the buoy boat came from Hamill's boat house to the starting point, having the champion as a passenger. After a brief consultation with the judges, it was decided that the race should go on. Hamill was taken back to his boat house, and the buoy boat, containing the judges, proceeded down the river to Brown's headquarters. Brown was notified to put in his appearance as soon as possible. The buoy boat then proceeded to its destination opposite Cork's run.

THE CONTESTANTS.

About twenty minutes before four, Brown entered his shell amid the plaudits of an admiring crowd on the south shore. He pushed off immediately, and slowly but vigorously pulled up the river to the bridge, the whistles of nearly a dozen steamboats sending forth at the time as many sounds, and producing the harshest discord that ever fell upon the ear. He rowed up to the bridge quite leisurely, and those who were in a position to see expressed their admiration at his appearance. He was in excellent condition, and was a perfect specimen of physical strength. Brown was clad in white knee breeches and light pink colored shirt, his arms being bare to the shoulders, and around his head wore a white hankerchief.

Hamill made his appearance very soon after the arrival of Brown. Having on a heavy coat and hat the populace did not recognize him. He rowed up to the steamer Fox, on which the starting judges were located, threw off his coat and hat, and appeared in white knee breeches and deep pink colored shirt. As soon as he was recognized, he was greeted by enthusiastic cheers from the crowd and the screaming of steam whistles. He was in prime physical condition, and showed that his training was of a judicious character.

THE START.

Both men were called up to the steamer Fox, and instructed about the signal for starting. Robt. C. Elliott, Hamill's judge, was to fire a pistol, at the report of which the contestants were to start, and David Lewis, Brown's judge, was to give the word. The men immediately proceeded to take their positions, Hamill, who had won the choice, taking the outside, and Brown the inside. They got into position in a very brief time, the word was given, the pistol fired, and with the flash of the latter, Brown made a vigorous pull, having a slight advantage of Hamill, who shot out speedily after. Brown pulled a strong, full dip oar, and lifted his frail shell almost out of water. His stroke was not so long as that of Joshua Ward, but seemed to be a compromise between that and Hamill's short, swift stroke. Hamill started out with a somewhat longer stroke than is usual with him, but changed it to his short stroke before the first half mile was reached. Both men pulled vigorously from the start, but Brown led and gradually drew away from Hamill, Brown's boat being clear of Hamill's at Wood street. This position was maintained until near Market street, when Hamill put on steam, and by his rapid strokes commenced to gain on Brown.

AT THE POINT.

Hamill had gained, until the bow of his shell reached to the outriggers of Brown's boat. In this position the contestants entered upon the waters of the Ohio.

JOCKEYING.

Now commenced a system of jockeying it is alleged on the part of Brown, who had the advantage in the race. Both boats pursued a zig-zag direction, entirely out of the course, and to that extent prolonged the distance, it is said, to nearly six miles. Opinions differ as to the culpability of the contestants in this particular, but the mass of testimony appears to be against Brown.

TEMPERANCEVILLE.

When opposite Temperanceville, Brown had acquired the position he occupied at Wood street—his boat clear of that of Hamill. They both made for the Manchester side of the river, and continued in that position until nearing the buoy. Hamill pulled up, but Brown also put on steam, and the latter reached the buoy and turned first. Hamill made a short, quick turn, righted up immediately, and both men prepared for the return, Hamill's boat lapping Brown's to amidship. But a few strokes were made, when the boats became locked, Brown's oars paddling over Hamill's bow and the latter's oars paddling over the stern of the former's boat. After pulling in this condition for some time, Hamill attempted to get clear of his opponent, and rowed towards the Temperanceville shore. Brown, however, who manifested a disposition to run Hamill down, followed in the same direction, and having half a length in his favor, was enabled to outjockey Hamill. Neither of the men seemed to be exerting themselves at all, and it was plain to all who saw them at this time that Brown was not disposed to act fair.

A FOUL.

Being unable to give Hamill his "wash," and unwilling to give him the water he was entitled to, Brown continued to press Hamill to the shore, until within twenty or thirty feet of the cinder bank at Lorenz's glass house, where Brown endeavored to run across Hamill's bow. This caused a collision which came near upsetting Hamill, when the latter threw up his oar and claimed foul. Previous to this, and while Brown was pushing his opponent to the shore, Hamill appealed to Brown to give him a clear course.

BROWN HAS IT ALL TO HIMSELF.

When Hamill ceased rowing, Brown settled down to his work, and pulled up over the course, occasionally making some splendid "spirts." Brown reached the starting point on his return in 46:30, which is very poor time. On reaching the bridge, he rowed around the pier, and returned to his boat house.

TAKING HIS TIME.

Hamill, after disengaging himself from the cinder bank, pulled leisurely over the course, indulging in a conversation with some friends at the Point on the way up. He arrived at the bridge about five minutes after Brown, and proceeded to the steamer Fox, where the Judges were awaiting him. He claimed the race at the hands of the judges, alleging the foul as before narrated.

HOW THE RESULT WAS RECEIVED.

As Brown neared the bridge he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers, showing that he had many admirers, who believed he had won the race. But as the gap between him and Hamill was made apparent, and the latter was observed to be coming in at his leisure, it was clear that something was wrong. Hamill's claim of foul soon gave rise to much comment, and great excitement ensued, which was not allayed at a late hour last evening.

MEETING OF THE JUDGES AND REFEREE.

Immediately after the race the Judges proceeded to Mr. A. J. Hagan's office, on Water street, near Smithfield, for the purpose of examining into the charges of foul claimed by Hamill. Mr. Elliott, one of Hamill's Judges, stated that Brown had jockeyed Hamill before they had pulled one hundred yards, and he (Mr. Elliott) had promptly entered a claim of foul. He also asserted that Brown had done everything in his power to interfere with Hamill, and called upon Mr. J. Rees and several other gentlemen who substantiated the assertion. Brown's representatives asserted that the race had been a fair one, and having won it he was entitled to the stakes. The conference occupied four hours, and its conclusion Mr. Caughey stated that he was not prepared to make a decision, but would do so this morning at nine o'clock. A large crowd of persons interested in the race had congregated in front of Mr. Hagan's establishment, during the conference, and upon the announcement being made that the matter had not been settled, quietly dispersed. Bets, as a matter of course, still hold over.

HAMILL AT THE THEATRE.

Hamill visited the Theater last evening, by invitation of Manager Smythe. During the evening calls were made upon him for a speech, when he appeared upon the stage and was enthusiastically received. After being introduced by Mr. Smythe, Mr. Hamill stated that he had been treated very shabbily by Brown during the race—that from the first he had been jockeyed, and that even when turning the buoy Brown interlocked oars with him. When on the home stretch he ran into him, and prevented him from winning, which he felt confident he could have done had fair play been shown him. The matter was, however, in the hands of the judges and referees, and he was willing to abide by their decision, whatever it might be. Mr. Hamill concluded by expressing the hope that Brown would be treated courteously during his stay in the city.

BROWN'S MOVEMENTS.

When Brown arrived at his boat-house, he divested himself of his rowing apparel and resumed his citizens dress. He then walked over the bridge to this city, in company with Messrs. Dierst and Wolfe, and took tea at the house of a friend. He stated that he had won the race fair and square, was entitled to the purse, and that the claim of foul entered by his opponent ought not to be allowed. He had intended to depart for home on the 4:50 train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, yesterday afternoon, but owing to the delay of the race caused by the rain, postponed his departure until 10.20. His friends, however, have prevailed upon him to stay until the decision of the judges has been announced. The boat in which he rowed has been purchased by Mr. Joseph A. Scott, a well-known oarsman of this city.

INCIDENTS.

During the race a pile of lumber on Water street, below the bridge, on which was crowded a number of men and boys, gave way, and precipitated those who were on it to the wharf. A number of persons were injured, one man quite severely.

Two men, occupying a double scull boat, while paddling about in the vicinity of the steam tugs, collided with the "Fox," when the shell capsized, and the occupants got a "ducking." They were speedily fished out.

A number of knock-downs took place on the wharf, previous to and during the race, between the more ardent tempered friends of the contestants in the sculling match, but no one was seriously hurt.

WAS THE RACE A FARCE?

The above is as fair and concise an account of the race as can be given. Numberless statements regarding the actions of the contestants during the race are afloat, and what is singular scarcely any two agree. The bargain and sale arrangement said to have been proposed by Brown, his denial thereof, and the statement of John Hamill affirming its truth, had shaken public credulity as to the fairness of the contest. Not a few held to the belief that a man who would come two thousand miles to row a race, and who had over and over again declared that he would honorably and fairly endeavor to win, could not lend himself to the schemes of racing gamblers. All who know Hamill, feel confident that he designed to win the race through superior skill and strength alone, and not by foul means. What, then, was Brown's motive in conducting himself as he did yesterday, conceding that all that has been said is true? Did he design to make a farce of the contest, and if so, what caused the change in the sentiments expressed by him on his arrival in the city? These are questions inexplicable to everybody but him, and he should solve them.

CONSOLIDATION.

Its Effect Upon the Value of Suburban Real Estate.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Many of our citizens are so situated as to be deeply interested in the matter of the proposed consolidation of Pittsburgh upon suburban real estate. I have been repeatedly inquired of how this had operated in Philadelphia. Several persons, owners of real estate thus situated, have expressed fears on these subjects. I am in that predicament, myself. All the real estate in which I am interested is outside of the present city limits and within the proposed extension by consolidation. I, therefore, have taken pains to inquire on this point at Philadelphia. There I have found more fault finders among the residents of the old city than among the owners of real estate in their former suburbs. The large owners of real estate in the old city limits allege that their property for taxable purposes is valued at two or three times what outside property is. Nearly all the owners of the former suburban property admit that their property has been largely increased in value by consolidation, and that as yet their assessed valuation is largely below that in the old city.

The most striking case that came under my observation is that of the Norris estate—within the last year divided amongst the heirs. Joseph Parker Norris, a wealthy merchant of Philadelphia, died something over forty years since, leaving among others two farms containing between three and four hundred acres, situated some three miles north of the State House—in the then county of Philadelphia—afterwards in the district of Kensington, now in the city. This real estate was tied up by his will in a trust that could not be sold, and had to be leased out after the manner of the O'Harra estate in this vicinity. After several acts of the Legislature and decrees of the Supreme Court it was disentangled last year, and the appraisers have just completed a valuation of it preparatory to division among the heirs. Its valuation is a little over $4,000,000. I asked a gentleman of high intelligence, who had been for over forty years connected with this trust what the effect of consolidation had been upon the Norris estate—including taxation, valuation, &c. His answer was "that the estate had been benefitted tenfold in value beyond the increase of taxes—that its increase in value during the last thirteen years, since brought within the city, had been three-fold what it had been during the former thirty years of the trust—in fact of the $4,000,000, at which it had been valued by the appraisers, he had no doubt fully one-half, or $2,000,000 of that value, had been added by the consolidation of that city." Now, all real estate in Philadelphia county may not have been so favorably situated as this Norris estate—but on the other hand this has been lease-hold property, and could not be permanently improved as if it had been held in fee by its owners.

I also inquired into the rate of taxation in Philadelphia since consolidation. From 1854 to 1861 the rate had not averaged over twenty mills, or two per cent. for all purposes, two-thirds of which rate was assessed upon suburban property marked "Rural" on the Assessor's books. (The same arrangement is to extend to suburban property here by the provisions of the consolidation bill.) The city of Philadelphia increased her debt about $11,000,000 by local bounties and other extraordinary expenditures during the war. The consequence has been that she is now paying forty mills or four per cent. on her assessed valuation, two thirds of this, or 26⅔ mills, are upon rural property. This is pretty steep, but not up to what we are paying now on our assessed valuation. In my borough we pay school 15, county 10, borough 10, and county poor, I think, 2, or 37 mills in all, not to include 20 mills for bounty purposes. I presume the millage in either Pittsburgh or Allegheny runs up to pretty near 40 mills exclusive of the bounty tax in each ward. Having spent some days in examining this question in Philadelphia I have given my fellow citizens the result of my observations, and, upon the whole, have concluded I had better try consolidation. I hope that it may result as it did in Philadelphia. While everybody there and here growl about the increase of taxation, not one in ten in Philadelphia would vote to return to her old disorganized condition. I therefore think the best thing I can do is to vote and labor for the consolidation of the thirty separate cities, boroughs and townships into one consolidated city. I believe that if this is carried at the October election, and the citizens of consolidated Pittsburgh behave with ordinary wisdom, not one in fifty would in ten years vote for a return to our present state.

AN OUTSIDER.

THE MOBILE RIOT.

ACCOUNTS FROM MOBILE PAPERS

An "Unprovoked Attack."

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The Mobile Press on the Riot.

The Mobile Advertiser and Register and the News, while stating that the recent riot at Mobile, and the attempt to assassinate Judge Kelley, was the "result of the merest accident," at the same time charge Judge Kelley with being the cause, from the language he used, which they style "inflammatory remarks." Coroner Delchams, a Justice of the Peace in Mobile, however, testified before a Coroner's jury that he "listened attentively to the remarks of the speaker, Mr. Kelley, and I must say that I heard nothing which in ordinary circumstancee would be considered wrong," and that the colored people would not have used their weapons "had it not been that the opinion prevailed among the crowd that an unprovoked attack had been deliberately made on the meeting."

The following is an extract from the leading article in the Mobile Register on the riot:

"The disturbance that occurred at the meeting to hear Judge Kelley was the result, as we have stated, of the merest accident. First, a citizen who had been drinking made several loud comments on portions of Judge Kelley's remarks that did not please him. This happens at every public political meeting. It was very imprudent and improper to have been indulged in at this meeting. In truth, the best thing that the white people can do is to keep away from these meetings. The police endeavored to quiet the tipsey citizen, and, failing in that, to arrest him. The arrest provoked a scuffle, and about the same time a carriage and horses ran off through the outskirts of the crowd, producing a rush to get out of the way. The two circumstances created the impression in the body of the crowd that there was a fight begun, and the whole mass broke up and dispersed at double quick. Meantime the freedmen commenced firing their pistols, and, as we learn, in the air, as they ran. The last account must be true, for as there were from 150 to 200 shots fired, if they had been aimed in the crowd, nearly as many hundred men must have been hit. As it was, the shot casualties do not exceed six or eight, and most all of those to white men.

It has been charged that shots were fired in the meeting from the residence of John Forsyth, the editor of the paper from which the above extract is taken, but the Register denies this.

From the Register we extract the following sworn testimony of Coroner J. J. Delchamps:

On Tuesday evening, at about 7½ o'clock, I was on the corner of Government and Royal streets, where a large number of black men and some white men were assembled. I mingled and conversed freely with the colored men, and was strongly impressed by their remarks. I had occasion to discuss with them the momentous questions of the day, and was more than pleased to hear from them that they wished to live in amity with their old and tried friend, and deal honestly and honorably with all who were willing to treat them in a like manner. One of the number had a discussion with me, and seemed to hold at heart wrongs which he asserted had been done him; he argued ably, and I must admit once turned the laugh of the crowd against me, but afterwards I did the same to him; and he afterwards stated that there was one Southern man in whom he had full confidence, and "for whom he would shed his heart's blood against any one living." We parted friends, and I, on my part, fully impressed that all the black men wanted was to hear and judge for themselves; that they were peaceably disposed towards all Southern men who would treat them fairly and honorably. My conversation ended when the speaking began. I listened attentively to the remarks of the speaker, ——— Kelley, and I must say that I heard nothing which in ordinary circumstances would be considered wrong, yet under existing ones I thought them highly injudicious, believing, as I do, that what is needed now is not high down political harangues, but plain, common sense remarks, calculated to promote harmony among all classes, lead to good feeling and educate the masses of all colors to act right, lawfully and honorably towards all men without distinction.

My position was on the sidewalk near the stand. The speaker had not spoken long before some injudicious remarks were heard proceeding from the outskirts of the assemblage. I remarked to the colored men around me that we ought to pay no attention to that, and one answered me and said: "No, that's some fool that ain't got good sense." A few moments after a slight disturbance occurred at or near the spot where the first objectionable remarks had proceeded from, and at the same time a street car or carriage, as I could not see, going down the street caused the crowd to jam together in the direction of the street. The cry was at once raised near me, "there's a fight," and a number of sticks were raised by black men. I, with many others, was forced by the rush to the foot of the steps of the old Court House, when shots were heard, proceeding in the first instance from the direction where the disturbance first occurred. A number of the black men near me laid down flat on the ground, and one said to me, "Massa, lay down." I took him at his word, replying: "Yes, boys, very flat." By this time the firing was very rapid, but from the flashes I am satisfied a large majority of the shots were fired in the air in all directions, several probably towards the speaker's stand, but I am almost certain comparatively few. The crowd having scattered, I arose and in company with some black men walked to the corner of Royal and Church streets. Afterwards I went up as far as about Wilkinson street in company with a number of black men and two white men; from that point I went home alone.

From what I saw and heard at the meeting, and previous to the speaking, my honest conviction was, and is still, that most, if not all the citizeos of Mobile, black and white, went to that meeting with a spirit of good will toward all honest and fair dealing men, and with no intention of creating a riot or any disturbance whatever. I am still of the opinion that the citizens of Mobile, black and white, are actuated by the same spirit, and that the unfortunate disturbance last evening was occasioned by the ill-timed remarks of one or more foolish persons who were about to be arrested by the police when the passing of the car or carriage causing a jam of the crewd induced the belief that there was a fight or riot, and pistols were fired.

Subsequent to the scattering of the crowd several gangs of men, colored entirely, so far as I could see, were formed and seemed to chase white men down Government and Royal streets, firing at them; but I am convinced that most of them hastened quietly off to their homes. Nor do I believe that these gangs would have been formed had it not been that the opinion prevailed among the crowd that an unprovoked attack had been deliberately made on the meeting.

My opinion is in nowise changed by the unfortunate disturbance of last night; but I still firmly believe that the great mass of the black, as well as the white citizens of Mobile, are anxious to live in peace and harmony with all men, and to avoid all difficulties or riotous conduct.

A REBEL SKETCH OF MR. KELLEY.

As some apology, we suppose, for the attack on Judge Kelley, the Advertiser gives the following sketch of him:

He belongs to a party that has, first, denied us by brute force those rights in the Union which it proclaimed during the war we should have if we would lay down our arms; second, that he belonged to a party that had reduced this people to military subjection; and third, that he had come out to insult and traduce a people helplessly pinned down by bayonets which he had set at their throats. Who will say that this is not a brave act, all worthy of his party? Shooting prisoners of war in cold blood is only a little less chivalric than abusing them to their faces, with manacles on their hands and feet.

MR. KELLEY'S DEPARTURE.

Of his manner of leaving Mobile the Register says:

A good deal was said in the streets yesterday touching the departure of Mr. Kelley from the city. That he left a little out of the regular way of doing things of that sort was generally understood, but the information as to how it was done was not so extensively diffused. He did not take the regular passenger boat for Tensas, but left on the Annie about five minutes ahead of that steamer. Some say that he chartered the Annie for the trip, while others hint that she was pressed into service in spite of her smoke-stack. The first assertion is most probably the true one, as Mr. Kelley could have had neither the right nor the power to lay violent hands on a steamboat and force her to carry him wherever he had a mind to go.

Disposition of Troops on the Plains.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—General Hancock has ordered two companies of cavalry to be stationed at Chalk Bluffs, two at Monument, and two at Big Timber station on the Smoky Hill route. He will also put a military guard at each station on the route from Lookout to Lake station inclusive, which, with the additional men employed by the Union Pacific railroad and Express Company, it is believed, will give entire security to the mail and travel across the plains by this route.

THE CATHEDRAL of Strasburg was struck by lightning on the 27th of July, 1759, which burnt all the woodwork. On the 14th of August it was struck three times within a quarter of an hour. On the 19th of July, 1834, it was struck again, after which copper rods were placed upon it. On the 10th of July, 1843, it was struck twice, but the rods saved it from any injury. The copper tubular lightning rod with spiral flanges, manufactured in this city by Lockhart & Co., are indorsed by all scientific men as the best in use.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Governor Geary has appointed Mahlon B. Dickinson, of Philadelphia, visitor for philanthropic purposes to the prisons and almshouses of the Commonwealth, under the act passed by the Legislature at its last session. This is an excellent appointment, Mr. Dickinson having been long noted for his philanthropy, and having always enjoyed the esteem and confidence of his fellow-citizens.

A series of resolutions were presented by the committee on Board of Publications, of a complimentary and suggestive character, which were adopted.

NON-EPISCOPAL METHODISTS.

General Conference at Cleveland.

FIFTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Conference opened with religious exercises, led by Rev. W. G. Clark, of New York. Rev. W. H. Brewster read a paper relative to the duty of the church to the freedmen; rejoicing in the emancipation of the slaves and commending the colored people, in their new relation, to the special care of the church; urging upon the churches liberality in donations of means for religious, literary and educational helps; also taking strong grounds in favor of equal suffrage, without distinction of color, throughout the nation. The whole tone of this paper was thoroughly radical, and it was unanimously adopted, with great enthusiasm.

The remainder of the morning session was chiefly devoted to the discussion of a plan for a new denominational hymn book, following which the report by the committee, slightly amended, to read as follows, was adopted:

"After carefully considering the question, the committee are of the opinion that the hymn-books which have hitherto been in use by the different denominations, now incorporated in the Methodist Church, although excellent compilations, and well adapted to the wants of the several organizations for which they were prepared, yet they do not entirely fulfill the requirements of the united body. We therefore recommend,

"1. The appointment of a committee of five, whose duty it shall be to compile and edit, as soon as practicable, a hymn-book for the use of the Methodist Church.

"2. That the title of the book be 'The Voice of Praise.' Psalms 66-9.

"3. While believing that choirs are of importance in leading the music in the church, we regard congregational singing in conjunction therewith, as one of the most important elements in the worship of God. We therefore further recommend for the attainment of this desirable end, that in addition to the ordinary book, an edition be published, if practicable, containing both music and words.

"Z. RAGAN,
"WM. RYNEHART,
"ALEX. CLARK,
"J. W. MCKEEVER,
"W. H. BREWSTER."

Rev. Mr. Springer, of Muskingum District, moved the appointment of a committee, to continue the correspondence begun between the committee appointed by the Cincinnati Convention and the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, upon Christian union and the practicability of a union of all Methodist, Episcopal and non-Episcopal in one organizations.

This motion gave rise to animated discussion, which was conducted in the affirmative by Rev. C. Springer, Dr. Brown and others, and in opposition by Dr. Scott, editor of the Methodist Recorder, W. E. Martin, of Illinois, and others. The chief ground of opposition to the motion was that non-Episcopal Methodists would bo unwilling to accept Episcopacy in any form. At the same time it was hopeless to look for a concession of lay representation, having any fairness in it, with the acquiescence of those revered in the tradition of Episcopacy.

A motion to lay on the table the motion for the appointment of the committee was finally tabled by a large majority, which is considered a test vote on its merits.

The reports from Commissioners on Boundaries, on Publications and on the Judiciary, were received and partially adopted.

A pleasing episode was a visit from Rev. Mr. Van Meter, of Howard Mission, New York, who addressed the Conference in the interest of that field of labor; whereupon a rush was made to the stand with donations. "Dear me," said Mr. Van Meter, "I didn't expect money from Methodist preachers."

This spontaneous contribution was very liberal in amount.

Resent the Unreasonable Demand.

The New York Economist, in an article on the recent Eight Hour Proceedings in Chicago, speaks of the duty of employers as follows:

If capitalists consult their interests and the welfare of the country at large, they will combine to a man, and resent the movement to the last extremity. They must not grow timid at the prospect of having, for a time, to suspend business, and lose a certain amount of money through keeping their work idle. That would doubtless be a most undesirable state of things, but acquiescence in the movement of the operatives would be tenfold more ruinous. If employers thus combine, they may turn the movement very greatly to their own advantage. What they now above everything need is a reduction in the price of labor. They are already, as a rule, paying wages which necessitate a loss upon their operations, and if they would avoid running into a widespread bankruptcy, they must have a general reduction of the price of labor. The proper occasion for attempting to effect this necessary change will occur at the time of the eight hours' strike.

Political Changes.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial writes—mysteriously—thus:

Those who have dwelt on the banks of our Northern rivers, will remember that at the close of winter cracking sounds are often heard, which herald the breaking up of the ice. So it is here just now. We hear sounds of political distrust and of patriotic determination from many sections of the country, and there are indications of a general "breaking up." Those who are imitating the hair-brained meta-physicians and empirical demagogues of the first French revolution in their pursuit of unattainable good, and those who pattern after Mephistopheles in their demoniac efforts to prevent harmony, do not see that their "occupation's gone," but the handwriting is visible on the wall.

"The Social Evil."

The editor of the Independent has been investigating "the Social Evil" in New York, and in regard thereto expresses himself as follows:

"The hardest of all the problems to deal with in such a dismal case as Water street, is prostitution. Drunkenness is a virtue compared with this vice. Whether or not prostitution shall submit to sanitary regulation by law, is not a new question. The clergy are generally on one side; the police on the other. We are not sure but the police are right. It is true that the mind staggers at the thought of forming such an iniquity into a law; but, on the contrary, the practical difference between having a law and having none, is simply the difference between prostitution restrained and prostitution unrestrained. The French plan, of granting licenses, certainly answers in Paris better than would the American plan of no medical surveillance. Whether the French plan would lessen the 'great social evil' in our American cities is a point not yet beyond dispute. But the question is not to be shirked, or silenced, or concealed; it is to be met.

MR. GREELEY has published a card denying that he was in one of the carriages "which conveyed Jefferson Davis to the New York Hotel." "I was," he says, "then far away, and never saw Mr. Davis anywhere but in Richmond for a few minutes; was never 'closeted' with him, nor had any sort of communication with him, save to exchange in a crowd a few of the commonest common-places. As your mistake is calculated to do public mischief, I ask its emphatic correction."

It is said that Surratt's trial will be postponed until the third Monday in June, when the Government will be ready. Hon. John A. Bingham, from Ohio, Judge Advocate, who prosecuted Payne and Atzerot on the military trial, has been invited to be one of the prosecuting attorneys in the trial of Surratt.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK, A. M.

THE CAPITAL.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE GOING ON HIS CIRCUIT.

Condition of the National Finances.

No Congressional Session Necessary on their Account.

Investigation of President Jonson's Habits.

The Kansas-Pacific Railroad Trouble.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1867.

Chief Justice Chase Going on his Circuit.

Chief Justice Chase is about to start on a trip to hold Court in his circuit, which comprises Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina. He will first hold a term in the latter State. The recent statement that the Chief Justice wrote a letter to Judge Underwood proposing to hold Court with him in Richmond on the twentieth inst. is fully verified by the production of the original letter, wherein he mentions that on that date he will be in that city and at the same time kindly declines the hospitality tendered him by a military official in Richmond. Nothing is said in the letter about the then prospective trial of Jeff. Davis, but it is evident that he must have expected it when he notified Judge Underwood of his intended presence in court. The release of the prisoner on bail, and the consequent delay of Davis' trial, was a matter of no little surprise to the Chief Justice.

The Cabinet.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was a routine affair, though all the members were present but the Attorney General. The latter's opinion on the reconstruction act was not up again, owing to his absence from the city.

Financial Matters.

The recent intimations held out from an apparently authentic source, in the Washington Republican, that financial matters would necessitate a meeting of Congress in July are completely negatived by Secretary McCulloch's opinion. He says that the Treasury can get along easily till December. The maturing indebtedness of the United States is being converted at the rate of more than one million per day, and there is no reason to doubt but that the first series of seven-thirties and early compound notes will be all converted by the end of the fiscal year. The Treasury will, therefore, not be pressed to redeem them. As regards the recent publication that the War Department will need for the current year a hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars, both Secretary McCulloch and Secretary Stanton deny it. The Secretary of War has made no such estimates, and declares that the figures published are made up from false premises. It may be concluded in view of this that if there is any session in July, it will be called by the Judiciary Committee.

The President's Habits.

Some of the testimony taken by the Impeachment Committee since their reassembling here has related to the personal habits of President Johnson, and several of the White House employees have given in their evidence in this particular. One of the witnesses testified that the President had never drank a drop of spirituous liquor. This statement provoked great laughter, as the witness in question was not summoned but volunteered his evidence to the Committee.

Illegal Exchanges.

Several bankers have written to Secretary McCulloch, stating that, contrary to law, certain parties have succeeded in exchanging, at the Treasury Department, registered five-twenties for coupon five-twenties. As there is a difference of three per cent. in the marketable value, the opportunity for profit is apparent. The Secretary is looking into the allegations.

No Jurisdiction.

The Judiciary Committee to-day decided that they had no jurisdiction on the question of title raised by the two sets of corporators claiming the Kansas branch of the Union Pacific railroad and directed their Chairman to make that report. It is a matter entirely for the courts to settle, and whichever way it may be decided, the Government has nothing to lose, as it has the first lien on the road.

Surratt's Trial.

Advices received to-day show that Congressman Bingham will not be counsel for the Government in the Surratt case. With a view of commencing the trial next week, ex-Congressman Riddle, of Ohio, has been solicited by the District Attorney to assist him.

The Boston Visit.

At a meeting of the Knights Templar in this city last night a committee reported that they had waited on the President, and he said that he would accept their escort to Boston on the occasion of his visit there on June 24th.

Public Land Sales.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received returns from the local office at Ionia, Michigan, showing 11,267 acres of the public lands were disposed of during April last at that office.

WASHINGTON, May 21.

THE MISSISSIPPI BILL.

There seems no doubt the Justices who denied the filing of the amended bill in the Mississippi case did so on the ground that it had no relevancy to the original bill, and was not supported by proof that General Ord intended to seize property of the State, and besides it was considered that if such a course should be pursued by Gen. Ord, the remedy would be in an application for injunction apart from considerations connected with the Reconstruction act.

The Booth Diary Published.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The Booth diary is published. It is simply a defense of his action. He says, under date of April 13th and 14th: "Until to-day nothing was ever thought of sacrificing to our country's wrong. For six months we had worked to capture, but our cause being almost lost, something decisive and great must be done. But its failing was owing to others, who did not strike for their country with a heart. I struck boldly, and not as the papers say. I walked with a firm step through a thousand of his friends, and was stopped, but pushed on. A Colonel was at his side. I shouted, "Sic Semper" before I fired. In jumping I broke my leg. I passed all his pickets, and rode sixty miles that night with the bone of my leg lacerating the flesh at every jump. I can never repent it, though we hated to kill. Our country owed all her troubles to him, and God simply made me the instrument of his punishment. The country is not, in April, 1865, what it was. This forced Union is not what I have loved. I care not what becomes of me. I have no desire to outlive my country. This night, before the deed, I wrote a long article and left it for one of the editors of the National Intelligencer, in which I set fully forth our reasons for our proceeding."

Distillation of Spirits from Grain Forbidden in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, May 21.—General Sickles has issued an order prohibiting the distillation of spirits from grain in the Second Military District. Offenders are declared liable to punishment by military commission. The reasons assigned for this order are the scarcity of food in Carolina, defrauding the Government of large revenue, &c.

Maryland Constitutional Convention.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., May 21.—In the State Constitutional Convention to-day, a minority report was submitted from the Committee on declaration of rights, which substituted for a clause which provides for negro testimony in the courts of the State the words: "Nor shall any person be deemed incompetent as a witness or juror on account of his religious belief, profession or practice." The report was ordered to be printed.

From Mobile.

MOBILE, May 21.—A court of inquiry has been ordered to convene here to investigate the disturbance on the 14th inst.

Col. Shepperd issued an order this evening retaining all the present policemen. The city government will not be disturbed. The military only takes cognizance of particular cases.

Cruelty in Public Schools.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 21.—An indignation meeting has been called by prominent citizens for to-morrow night, to determine what action the people will take to suppress unmerciful cruelty, wanton barbarity, and other heinous crimes in the public schools.

From Boston.

BOSTON, May 11.—The cash contributions to the suffering Cretans are $18,500, besides large quantities of clothing.

There has been no diminution in arrests for drunkenness since the closing of the bars.

MEXICO.

The Capital Entirely Surrounded.

No Quarter to Be Given Imperial Officers.

Imperial Army Only 16,000 Strong.

NEW ORLEANS, May 21.—The Picayune's special correspondence, dated Orizaba, May 2d, says the City of Mexico is surrounded by 20,000 Liberals. The bombardment has commenced in earnest. The garrison numbered 9,000 men, under Marquez, who announced his intention to resist to the last. He had impressed all the water carriers and porters. No officers are to receive quarter from the Liberals. Orders have been issued that Miramon, Marquez, and Maximilian be shot if captured. Since the surrender of Puebla the Imperialists have not over 16,000 men, all told.

FROM CHINA.

Monopoly of River Navigation by American Firms—Death of a Mandarin—Reverses Met by Imperial Forces—The First Steam Fire Engine, &c., &c.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The Tennyson, fifty-three days from Hong Hong, has arrived. Commercial news unimportant.

The British resident and newspapers of ports in China were exercised over the fact that the American firms of Augustin, Hard & Co., and Russell & Co., had been given each the monopoly of river steam navigation, the former controlling all steamers in Canton, and the latter all steamers in Yangtz. Appeals were made to British pride to alter this state of things. It is admitted that the American style of boats cannot be competed with successfully in the former river, but it is claimed that the Yantz water is deep, admitting screw steamers, whose cargo capacity and cheapness of running exceeded the American, which have walking beam engines.

Heng Ki, a Mandarin well known from his association with foreigners, died at Pekin. Sir Henry Parks, the present British Ambassador to Japan, was indebted to his influence for his escape with life when captured with Bowlby and Brabazon.

The Imperial forces in the province of Shoutemung had sustained serious reverses, the army being cut to pieces and the General captured.

A supposed piratical junk was seized by the Hong Kong authorities. It was a fast sailer, and thoroughly armed. The crew were imprisoned pending investigation.

The first steam fire engine ever seen in China was received at Hong Kong in March. The press advocates increasing the number to four.

The annual report of the harbor master of Hong Kong shows a decrease in trade in 1866.

The French consul at Bankok, Siam, has sued the Recorder newspaper for libel. It stated that he officiously interfered in the King's presence with the review of native troops. The case was tried in the United States Consular Court, and $100 damages awarded. The verdict is condemned by the press of China and Siam.

In the Bashee channel, April 1st, the Tennyson spoke the Malay, from New York for Hong Kong.

FROM DETROIT.

Murder in St. Clair County—Fenian Meeting.

DETROIT, May 21.—A murder was committed to-day in the town of Columbus, St. Clair county. Two young men named Curley and McCall had a quarrel of long standing, which culminated in the latter being shot through the head by Curley. The perpetrator had not been arrested at last accounts.

The Fenians have a mass meeting to-night. Speeches were made by P. J. Meehan and Col. Walsh.

SPEAKING of the woman's suffrage meeting in St. Louis, the Republican (Democratic) says: The social position and the respectability of many of the women concerned in this movement are such that even if they do not conciliate favor to the proposed political reform, they will command deferential treatment from its opponents.

SPECULATION.—The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph says that unprincipled persons are collecting money and provisions for the poor of the South and than using them on their own account. It recommends that all these ostensible agents should have authority authenticated by the Governor, or an officer of the County Court.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

THE UNDERSIGNED, THE PUBLISHER OF THE PITTSBURGH QUARTERLY MAGAZINE, believing that a merited approval ever awaits a worthy effort, entered into engagements, in April last, with several writers of merit, to assist in producing a cheap home periodical, of choice, chaste and interesting reading, with sprinklings, now and then, of harmless wit, that might in time, avert the growing, and, to say the least, vitiated taste for trashy novels, and in his enterprise having met a most flattering reception, in all grades of society, now goes a step farther, and offers to any one of his fair readers, who produces the best poem on "The Allegheny River," (to be published in the next issue of the Magazine,) a prize, consisting of a beautifully chased tripple silver plated card stand, with Bohemian glass, now on exhibition at Roberts' Jewelry Store, No. 16 Fifth street.

The publisher, in adopting this course, confidently expects the co-operation of Clergymen, and those having charge of Female Schools and Seminaries, and believes, if successfully carried out, this may have the effect of awaking some young ladies slumbering muse, and point the way to the summit of fame.

"Full many a gem, of purest ray, serene,
The dark, unfathomed waves of ocean bear.
Full many a flower is doomed to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

And how many sweet embryo blossoms are at this moment bidding fair to waste their sweetness by a life of listless inactivity, who might yet bloom on the page of history, and whose names may yet lend fragrance to the archives of our public libraries?

Therefore, fair readers, make an effort, and equal justice will be done to your contributions, by a Committee appointed for that purpose. All communications should be addressed to

The Daily Commercial

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1867.

JUDGE SPALDING, Representative in Congress from the Cleveland District, is said to favor a summer session of Congress, to which he has heretofore been opposed. His reasons are drawn from the financial and business condition of the country.

WE are glad to hear that Mr. McCULLOCH is of the opinion the financial condition of the country will furnish no occasion for a summer meeting of Congress. The Secretary would doubtless struggle hard, were it necessary to do so, in order to prevent such a meeting.

IT was Mr. McFARLAND, of the Washington Chronicle, who, at the Richmond jubilation over the release of DAVIS, proposed a toast to "the health of Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS, as a soldier and a man," but to which some of the gentlemen present very properly refused to drink. The Richmond Editors, it is said, "were surprised at the sentiments evinced by some of the Northern journalists present." They are not alone in this feeling.

GENERAL SHERMAN is said to have said, we can have an Indian war or not, just as we choose. This tallies with the suspicion which has come to be generally entertained. Of course there are plenty who go in for war—the speculators especially. This class of patriotic individuals were mainly instrumental for years in keeping up the Florida war, and put millions in their pockets by it. We doubt if they are equally successful this time.

THE SULTAN has concluded to crush out Christianity in his dominions, in putting down the rebellion of the Christians in Crete. JEFFERSON DAVIS once concluded to crush out treason, in expelling the Yankee Government from the Confederacy; when his Sultanship has finished up his contract, some misguided philanthropist or ambitious politician will, very probably, go over and bail him out if the Cretans should catch him.

PRUDENT men—taking the Mexican reports to be worthy of belief—would not bid high for MAXIMILIAN'S head, were it to be put up at auction. The protest by Mr. SEWARD seems not to have eventuated in the guaranty sought. JUAREZ says he fears he will not be able to save MAXIMILIAN from being executed in case he falls into the hands of Generals ESCOBEDO or CORONA, commanding the besieging forces. One is inclined to suggest that if he cannot do as much as this, he must have a poor prospect of governing the country, of which he is as good as the restored head. The thing looks as though he was too blood-thirsty by half, and did not wish to save his enemy.

RAILROADS AND GREAT CITIES.

Mr. PARTON, in his article on St. Louis, in the Atlantic for June, perceives a glorious future for that already flourishing city. Even now a thousand miles of railroad in the State connect the city with the Western system of roads, chief among which is the railroad to the Pacific. "When that greatest work of man is finished, in 1870," says the writer, "St. Louis—which is 1,600 miles from New York and 2,300 from San Francisco—will be as manifestly the natural capital of the United States as New York is of the richest portion of it. It will not be in a geographical sense the central city, but considering the superior importance to us of Europe over Asia, and other obvious facts, it will be central in every sense but the geographical one,—it will be the center of politics, of business and of distribution."

The relations of railroads to all great cities is here receiving another illustration. It is evident that Mr. PARTON places St. Louis prospectively ahead of Chicago; and he predicates his belief on its railroad connections. All experience shows that he is right; and though St. Louis, by its position, enjoys peculiar advantages, yet to a certain extent what is true of it is true of every other city. Nothing is more certain than that no city that neglects to multiply and extend its railroads will continue to grow. As a city neglects to do this then will it drop behind.

There are certain natural railroad centers, depots of commerce and trade, differing in magnitude, it is true; but it is not difficult to ascertain the points. West of the Alleghenies and the lakes, there are four large cities, which not only command peculiar local advantages and possess positive elements of growth, but are natural railway centers. Standing with Mr. PARTON in St. Louis, we name in their order the cities of Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. In population they now are nearly equal, and their growth, on examination, will be found to have been strikingly similar. This similarity, in the future, will depend wholly on the energy, foresight and promptness with which the citizens of each lay hold of the elements which await their hands—more especially on the extension of their railway connections. St. Louis has—can have—no monopoly. Her relations to the Pacific road are more immediate, it is true, but to Pittsburgh that great road is also very important. There are railway enterprises which hold to Pittsburgh relations strikingly similar to those the Pacific road holds to St. Louis. Looking upon the map, and tracing our westward connections, no one can fail to perceive that our great need is additional and independent connections with tide-water. With the Allegheny road to New York and Philadelphia on the one hand, and the Connellsville road to Philadelphia, Baltimore and the National Capitol on the other,—with these constructed—as they surely will be—Pittsburgh will have secured that which will enable her to maintain her present relative position in the list of the four great cities in the West.

But Pittsburgh has disadvantages to contend with which no other city has. The legislation of the State is controlled by a vast monopoly against her. Her first work, therefore, is to throw this off and obtain favoring legislation, so that her citizens may build such roads as they deem essential to their welfare. Then—perhaps we should say first—our citizens must resolve to emulate St. Louis and the other cities in the list, in enterprise and public spirit. In this lie sPittsburgh, future; for as we improve our opportunities—as we put forth our energies to obtain wise legislation, and use it when obtained—as we cultivate a public spirit, put our hands to public improvements and resolve to be at least equal with the foremost of the other cities n med—in proportion as we do these things will we hold our own or fall behind.

CONFISCATION.

The confiscation of the property of leading rebels has been much talked of. Of late it is a favorite theme, or rather a favorite phrase, ad captandum, in Democratic and conservative journals. It has succeeded to the place of party slavery formerly occupied by the terms coercion, abolition and such like. But beyond this, confiscation is seldom mentioned in any circles. Certainly, it is not often referred to in Republican speech.

Confiscation, as a general measure of indiscriminate application, has never been advocated in the policy of the Republican party. In the action of the Government of the United States, it was, and very justly, resorted to, in the case of property abandoned by rebels going into the military service of the Confederacy. Against this, no argument could be raised on any principle of justice. But whatever may have been the opinion of individuals, as to the propriety of universal confiscation, it has never constituted a principle of the party opposed to the rebellion. There is, therefore, no ground for the allegation of the Democratic press, which embraces a gross insult to every loyal man in the country, that they desire confiscation by the transfer of the property of rebels to Union soldiers or to the emancipated negroes. The changes that have been rung on this malignant allegation in the rabid journals of the South have had an echo, with increase of noise, in the sympathising papers of the North.

But, although the Republican party has not been and is not now, in favor of such a measure as general confiscation of the property of rebels, yet it is not because confiscation would, in a civil or moral sense, involve any injustice. The admission that the crime of treason has been committed, and the fact that the hostile disposition accompanying it still exists, would afford ample grounds for such action by the Government as would deprive leading secessionists of the means of disturbing and endangering the peace of the country by conspiracies and treasons. Still the policy of the Government in exercising clemency, is approved by the Republican party to the extent of not confiscating the property of those who are willing to live as good citizens in time to come. The right of confiscation, under law and by the act of Government, is claimed, but is waived for the exercise of clemency.

OUR FOREIGN MAIL SERVICE.

One of the events of the times, calculated to startle and offend every patriotic feeling, is noticed with proper indignation in one of our New York journals. It is this, that on the petition of some of the English, French and German merchants in New York, the Postmaster General has directed the withdrawal of the mail service from the ocean steamers that sail under the United States flag, and its transfer to vessels bearing the flags of the other nations. This act of the Postmaster General, unless there are reasons for it which are not developed in connection with the transaction, will cause an indignant feeling throughout the country.

The facts, as stated, are these: The utterly desperate system of privateering that, with the aid of some of the foreign nations, was carried on by the rebels against our commerce, having greatly reduced our mercantile marine, left us with but four steamers in the regular trade with Europe—the Arago and the Fulton sailing to Havre, and the Atlantic and the Baltic to Bremen. These have had a part of the mail service, till it was lately withdrawn at the petition of foreign merchants doing business in New York. The consequence will be, of course, a loss to the proprietors of this small number of vessels, and a corresponding gain to the foreign owners of other lines. But, taking a more comprehensive view of the case as a national interest, it commits the entire mail arrangement between this country and trans-Atlantic countries to the agency of lines owned and controlled by foreigners, and every vessel of which carries not the flag of the Union, but that of another nation.

The damage done to that small but important class of our commercial vessels, is a matter of less consequence than the indignity done to the nation by the gross assumption, as it appears to us, of the petitioners, and by the meek compliance of our own public functionary.

STRONG ARGUMENTS.—Gen. Mower, in addressing the rioters in New Orleans, says: "If you go on with this rioting, by the Eternal God, I will throw grape and canister into you." They did not go on because they understood the arguments against proceeding. No merit in a speaker like logic which his hearers understand.

THE North American is rejoicing over the establishment of a woolen factory in Western Texas. The first woolen factory in Minnesota was established by a woman, whose husband had left her, with seven children and not a dollar, to go and seek his fortune in California. When he returned, penniless, her factory was running and she was proprietor of a small town.

THE imports at New York, for last week, were as follows: Dry goods, $916,820; general merchandise, $3,017,595. Among the items were the following: Tea, $306,614; sugar, in hhds. and bbls., $458,259; do. in boxes and bags, $119,248; molasses, $113,682; coffee, $195,685; fancy goods, $48,284; furs, $74,387; leather, $258,000; watches, $41,288; jewelry, $15,931; toys, $2,875.

THE income of A. T. Stewart, last year, was less than eight hundred thousand dollars. Poor man! How does he get along on such a pittance? He should give up his present petty business, and start a paper. If he can do nothing for himself, a relief society might be started and the Pennsylvania Legislature got to pass an act authorizing said society to do all and sundry, more or less, whatsoever said society may deem expedient, in order to raise funds for the relief of said A. T. now in extremity.

AT Fort Buford two thousand red men of the forest chased a Mr. Farrell, who kept them at bay with his rifle, until he got into the fort, as no one of the two thousand knew that he would not be the one who should be shot when the bullet came. Said two thousand besieged that fort and Union with the amiabl intention of killing all the pale faces in said forts, but only succeeded in picking off a few at long range. The next we shall hear some white savage will be trumping this little hunting excursion up as cause of war upon our red brethren.

THE New York Sun reads a homily on setting a money value on human life. It says, "instances of appraising human life at a cash value are by no means rare."

Why should they be? From all we know of the history of our English jurisprudence, a money value on human life lies at the very foundation of it. One of the proofs given of the freedom of our Anglo-Saxon forefathers is that a price, or valuation, was set upon the life of the King, and that, although it was larger than that set on the life of any subject, yet the fact proves him to have been one of the people.

GOV. MARSHALL, of Minnesota, has received from the Government 10,000 rations, to be distributed among the destitute settlers in the frontier counties of that State. Great destitution exists among the new settlers, but they are hopeful, and, with a little assistance to get in their crops, feel assured of doing well.

If they do not do well they are a new class of settlers for the North Star State. It must have been a very mistaken policy which led Minnesota to leave herself thus scarce of provisions. She has been penny wise and pound foolish by selling at what appeared high prices for distant markets grain that is now wanted for her new settlers. Her local press must be largely responsible for the present destitution in not pursuing a forewarning.

"A WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION," has been organized in St. Louis. Some of the most prominent ladies in the city are said to be officers, and that active measures are being taken in that city and throughout the State to effect a revision of the Constitution, by which the word "male" shall follow "white" in its expulsion from the Constitution. Kansas and Wisconsin, by their Legislatures last winter, both left the question to the people to decide at the next fall elections, but if the experiment is to be tried some Southern State will doubtless lead the way, in this as in granting to women the right to hold property.

THE New York Times—which ought to be well posted—speaking of the recent allusions by Wendell Phillips and others to President Johnson as a man of dissipated habits, makes this rather remarkable statement: "But we believe it is universally known by all who have the best means of knowing, that there is not a syllable of truth in the assumption,—that Mr. Johnson's personal habits have been rigidly and severely abstemious ever since he has been in the Presidential office." "In this instance we have not a shadow of doubt—and we do not speak without some knowledge on the subject—that what Mr. Phillips has said of the President is without foundation."

"CARRYING coals to Newcastle," is an English proverb, to signify the absurdity of reversing the currents of trade, so as to return supplies to their sources. The style of trade-wisdom has just been exhibited in this country. A canal cargo of wheat passed Syracuse, New York, lately, destined for Chicago. Where did it come from? Here is an additional wonder. It came from San Francisco, by way of France! Pro-di-gi-ous! Our way of accounting for this abnormal procedure is this, that the Chicago wheat dealers have become famous practitioners in the art and mystery of high prices, and that this lot is consigned to them, in order to receive a new start to market with chances of a price that will more than pay all the extra charges. If the fame of Chicago management has led to this consignment, according to our theory, it will prove a disappointment, for we are gratified, as all our readers who eat bread will be, to learn that the transaction has produced a decline in the price of flour in New York and other market centers—except Pittsburgh.

IT seems odd to find a grave politician, who hails from a State locally and politically Southern, in the most intense degree, arguing in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to women. Yet so it is. Ex-Governor Foote, of Mississippi, is directing his attention to the subject, and is presenting the results at which he arrives and the arguments he employs to the consideration of the public in a series of letters. Those who read the articles of Governor Foote will, of course, judge for themselves of the weight and soundness of his arguments. But there is one idea developed in the train which has the sheen of novelty and moral beauty upon it, even if it has not—though perhaps it has—in it also the more sterling quality of soundness. It is this, that as legislation and policy are affected by the character and tone of the persons exercising the right of suffrage, the infusion of the gentle, pacific, humane element and influence, connected with the female character, will have a benign effect on the policy of Governments in relation to war. If the means proposed would introduce an era of universal peace among nations and men, it should be adopted by all means. But, unfortunately for the theory, the women in the Southern States, if their political panegyrists have told the truth, were most effective and persistent stimulators of the war of the rebellion. With this exception, the theory embraced in Governor Foote's argument looks plausible and pleasing.

THE Cincinnati Gazette gives a synopsis of sermon preached by Rev. W. D. Howard, in the First Presbyterian Church of that city, on the 18th: Subject, "The Blessings of Adoption" in which occurs this paragraph:

"The obedience of the Christian is constant; it is not confined to the sanctuary, the closet, or the communion table. It pervades his whole life, ennobles him everywhere—in the counting house, the factory, the farm, the court, the camp and on the field of battle."

When our spiritual teachers generally take specific care in applying their teachings to "the counting house, the factory, the farm, the court, the camp, the battle field," they will show a true appreciation of their mission, and christianity will not so often be reproached by the unworthiness of its professors. There has been too much spiritual teaching calculated to create the impression that religion is something apart from the every day duties of life—a thing of bliss and sensations. It was by teachings of this description that christianity was made to cover, as a cloak, that system of crime which culminated in civil war and devastation, and which has caused it to be too frequently remarked that Christians differ little from other people except on Sunday. We, therefore, say God speed to every earnest word, bringing home to the consciences of men the Christian duties of every day life. He who created the universe will never consent to be excluded from the government of any one part of it. In no hour of life is any creature exempt from the duty of obedience to the author of that life.

TELEGRAPHIC CONSOLIDATION.—The Franklin Telegraph Company having secured from the Massachusetts Legislature an amendment to their charter, empowering them to increase their capital stock, have effected a consolidation with the Insulated Lines Telegraph Company. This gives the Franklin Company six wires from New York to Boston, and four to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The management of these lines is in the hands of practical telegraphers of long experience. Mr. J. B. Stearns, of Boston, is the President, and S. G. Smith, formerly of New York, the General Superintendent of the Company.

A LADY applied at the Portland (Me.) police office, on Monday, in search of a lost cat, for which she offered $1,000 reward. She brought the animal from England, and thought a great deal of it. The cat had on when lost a gold necklace worth about $40. Wonder how much she gave to the sufferers by the fire?

Depot for Rev. E. A. Wilson's Consumption Remedy.

GEORGE MUIR,

Of Armstrong's Coal Works, Penn Township, Allegheny county, Pa., speaks as follows of the Rev. E. A. Wilson's Great Remedy for Consumption: I was reduced so low with Consumption that I was unable to leave my bed, and my physicians informed me that they could do nothing more for me, my case being utterly hopeless, that I had not certainty over a month to live. At this stage I was induced to try the Rev. E. A. Wilson's remedy, and to-day I am well as any man in the world. If there are any who doubt this statement, they can call and see me (as per above address) and I will give them all the particulars of my extraordinary recovery.

FILES! FILES!
THE AUBURN FILE WORKS
AUBURN, NEW YORK.
Would call the attention of manufacturers and those using Files and Rasps to the superior article of HAND CUT FILES, which they are now making from the best quality of Cast Steel, consisting of Flat, Hand, Mill, Saw, Round, Half Round, Square, Taper Saw Files, Horse Rasps, and all other kinds, which are in no respect inferior to any now made.
It accords neither with our taste or our principle to assert that our Files have never been approached by any other manufacturer. The Files must speak for themselves, and those who wish to purchase largely are sufficiently wise to accept the evidence of the files rather than the assertion of the manufacturers.
Your orders may be left with T. H. RICHARDS, Esq., 30 Fifth street, Pittsburgh, where samples of some of the principal kinds may be examined and prices obtained. Your orders will be carefully executed at the manufactory, and warranted to give satisfaction or Files returned.
We have permission to refer to the Pittsburgh Novelty Works, who are now using our work to their entire satisfaction. Under date of November 28, 1867, they say:
"The files give general satisfaction in regard to 'temper and cut.' The only objection we find is, 'they are cut too fine for our use. A coarser cut would suit us better. Please remember this when we send another order.'"
Also of May 6th, 1867, enclosing draft for $183 73.
"Your Files give satisfaction, and you have permission to use our name in regard to their quality."
Please call and examine samples before placing your orders.
H. G. THORNTON.

TO THE COAL MERCHANTS AND OTHERS.—The undersigned has for lease or other disposition, a quantity of SUPERIOR COAL LANDS, accessible to the Ohio river at all seasons of the year by any sized coal barges, at the mouth of Green River, opposite Evansville, Ind. This coal is superior to the best Pittsburgh coal. It makes no clinker, no cinder. It is bituminous, and is nearly free from sulphur. It makes bar iron nearly equal to the best charcoal iron. It makes more and brighter gas, to the same number of pounds or tons of coal, than the best Pittsburgh. Its convenience for mining cannot be surpassed. The coal can be dropped into the barge in from 30 feet to 100 yards from the enteries. The enteries are a little above high water mark. In the burning of 100 pounds the residuum is from 14 oz. to 2 lbs. A sample of the coal can be seen at Messrs. Horner, Woods & Co., No. 69 Water street, Pittsburgh, and where one of the partners may be seen every day. Several Pittsburgh coal dealers have made extensive leases already. Six or eight more can yet be accommodated. A singular advantage is that we own every acre of this fine coal, and parties leasing can have no competition with it whatever. Vein four feet thick.
Enquire for Col. Payne, at Messrs. Horner, Woods & Co., or at the Monongahela House.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

...fewer than six steamships sailed from New ...Saturday afternoon for Europe, namely: the ...de Paris, for Havre and Brest; City of New ...k and Erin, for Queenstown and Liverpool; ...ago, for Liverpool; Caledonia, for Liverpool; Glasgow, and Hammonia for Southampton ...Hamburg. The took about two thousand passengers in all.

...Saturday last the following arrivals were reported at Castle Garden: Steamer England, Liverpool, ...867; steamship Atlanta, London and Havre, ...steamship Britannia, Glasgow, 517; ship Plymouth Rock, London, 315; Total, 1,252. All in good ...

...e Workingmen's Union, in New York, which ...s to represent all the trades, have adopted resolutions calling upon employers to co-operate in carrying out the Eight Hour law enacted by the Legislature. They declare, also, that they will not, by ...case, allow what they have earned by so much ...everance to be lost by any default of theirs, however ...much they may be disposed to conciliate and ...t themselves to the situation.

...ter a large and enthusiastic open-air meeting of ...rners in London on Sunday, the 28th of April, ...people marched in procession, bearing banners ...headed by a military band, to the church of St. ...an the Martyr, where a service was conducted in ...ctly Ritualistic style by the celebrated apostle of ...ualism, the Rev. A. H. Mackonochie. The ...acher took for his text: "The Word was made ...sh," John, i. 4; and argued that as Christ was a ...his sympathies were with the wrongs and sufferings of mankind. The reformers wore their tri...red scarfs in the church, and displayed their ...ners. On the way to and from service they sang ...Reform League hymn, "We'll rally round the ...gue," and the band played the Marseillaise.

...t the recent fire in Cincinnati ten thousand boxes ...andles were melted in the basement. The grease ...dle is valued at $30,000.

...he consumption of beer is largely increasing in ...gland, the quantity brewed having increased from ...84,770 barrels in 1857, to 25,338,60 barrels in 1866, ...ng an increase of over 40 per cent., while the ...wth of population was only 6.25 per cent.

...me Americans took a minstrel troupe to Paris, ...he hope of making a good deal of money with his ...ns-Atlantic specialty during the Exposition. He ...t a hall outside the park, adjacent to the southern ...losure, in which the burnt-cork artists have been ...ding forth since Monday evening last. But owing, partly, to the very primitive appointments of ...interior of the building, the use of the English ...guage in the songs, and the want of taste of the ...ntinental public for such entertainments, they ...t with very indifferent success, and are likely ...fail.

...he American restaurant at Pa... pened. ...e waiters are all colored. The eatables and drinks will be "on the American plan." To foreigners the most curious feature of the institution is an ...cream and soda fountain—the only one in the Exposition. I have seen crowds of Europeans stop and ...ard it with the greatest wonder. They do not ...ow what to make of the contrivance and the beverage it produces. A few plucked up courage enough ...try the latter. But the majority shook their heads ...d walked away. The price charged for the soda is ...ogether too high to make it very popular for foreigners.

...n regard to the prospects of an Indian war, General Sherman is reported to have stated, in conversation with a gentleman on the train, that we can have ...r not, as we choose. He said that parties in ...nsas desired an Indian war, but he thought in this ...pect their wishes would not be gratified.

...iberian emigration is quite popular. It is reported that on May 13th about one hundred and seventy-five freed women, men and children, the greater ...t being women, left Macon, Ga., for Charleston, ...m which point they expect to sail for Liberia.

PERSONAL.

—Says a Paris writer: Within the last few days I ...ve repeatedly come across some human outgrowths ...a peculiar American institution, that, though not ...rming part of our exhibition, are yet among the ...ost curious of our contributions to the Exposition. ...hey are two live specimens of Mormondom in the ...rm of two sons of Brigham Young. The oldest of ...e two, who calls himself Brigham Young, Jr., is a ...ry intelligent person, between thirty-five and ...rty, of short stature and considerable embonpoint. ...he younger is a thin, rather cadaverous looking individual. The former, I understand, has brought ...wo of his wives along, to the enjoyment of which ...ouble blessing the French police is not likely to disturb him. The Exposition being "universal," it is ...rhaps no more than proper that Mormondom ...ould be also represented. But the two offsprings ...the Head of the Church seem to be the only contributions from the land of the Latter-Day Saints.

—The following story is told of James Gordon Bennett, Jr., of the New York Herald—that when in ...ngland he was asked to dinner by the Duchess of ...allsbury, and was so set up by her united kindness ...nd wine, that he said to a friend: "Do you know ...hy this is thus? They fear us! Yes, bedad! they ...remble before us! I tell you, boys, I shall plant the ...tars and Stripes on the Tower of London!" And ...nat, at Count Susa's, one night, he stroked the ...oatee of a young Spanish nobleman, both of them ...ho "how-come-you-so," whereat the Spaniard, ...ho would not fight himself, procured two of his ...riends to challenge the only son of his very popular ...ther. The Herald might have had a chance to get a ...irst-class sensation out of the running through the ...ody of this rash ocean sailor, but the opportunity ...o beat all its contemporaries was lost by Doctor ...arey and Laurence Jerome persuading the Spaniards that Bennett could not an apple with a bullet, ...hus do the youths of the Republic excel upon the ...ea and shore.

—Joseph R. Masters, late of the navy, writes to ...he Galveston News that Lieutenant William M. ...Colbert, of Shenandoah notoriety, who disappeared ...t the close of the war, has turned up in command ...f a large vessel in the East India waters, and made ...himself famous by having laid a wager of $2,500 ...that J. Wilkes Booth is still alive, and won the ...money. The bet was made at Calcutta and for ...some mysterious reason was decided to belong to ...Colbert.

—Ossian E. Dodge, who was as well known ten years ago as the Great American Traveler is now, and in much the same way, has just been married in Minnesota.

—The Paris correspondent of the Court Journal announces that the Empress of the French is again enciente.

—The Richmond correspondent of the Chicago Tribune writes as follows: "John C. Underwood is hated by every rebel, and pretty heartily despised by all the old white residents in Richmond. So much, at least, may be said in his favor. He is a firm believer in that clause of the Declaration of Independence, which declares that all men are created free and equal; and he gives practical effect to the the civil rights law by presenting grand and petit juries, made up without distinction as to race or color, and I may say, in passing, that his negro jurors are every whit as sensible and intelligent as his white jurors. As a Judge, Mr. Underwood is an accident of the war, appointed by Mr. Lincoln when it was necessary to have some one at Alexandria, and when it was not easy to find suitable men for the duty. Were he living to-day, I hardly think he would have call this one of his successful appointments. The striking mental deficiencies of the man are clearly indicated by his recent charge to the Grand Jury—he hasn't any sense of the high dignity of his office. The common conclusion is that the argument of Mr. Greeley induced the Judge to change his view of the law and his opinion as to the necessities of the situation, and let Davis off on bail."

—Blind Tom, the young negro pianist, has been making a sensation in Paris for some weeks. He gives daily evening concerts, which attract not only Americans, but also crowds of natives. The musical world take a great interest in him, and manifests its sympathies in a practical way. He now plays almost every afternoon on the French pianos in the Exposition, and never fails to gather great throngs of visitors around him. He is about being invited to display his remarkable talents in the Tuileries, and some of the most aristocratic circles of the haut monde.

—The Auburn Advertiser says that twenty-three years ago, Secretary Seward had the honor of fixing names to a triplet of girl babies, children of Mrs. Walsh, of Jefferson county. Two of these daughters still live. Last Christmas one of them wrote him a letter, reminding him of the pleasant little episode, which it seems she had not forgotten. The Secretary replied kindly, and a few days ago sent the young ladies each a Bible and a five-twenty United States bond of fifty dollars.

RAILROAD BONDS.
FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS,
AND DEALERS IN
Government and other Desirable Securities.
No. 5 Nassau St., N.Y.,
Recommend to Investors the
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
OF THE CENTRAL
PACIFIC R. R. CO.
This Company is constructing under the patronage of the United States Government.
the Western end of the Great National Railway Across the Continent.

Their line will extend from Sacramento, California, across the Sierra Nevadas to the California State Line, traversing the Richest and most Populous Section of California, and thence through the Great Mining Regions of the Territories, to the vicinity of Salt Lake City.

It forms the sole Western link of the only route to the Pacific which is adopted by Congress and aided by the issue of United States Bonds.

Their road is already completed, equipped and running for 94 miles from Sacramento to within 12 miles of the summit of the Sierras, and a large amount of the work of Grading, Tunnelling, &c., beyond that point has been accomplished.

The First Mortgage Bonds of this Company afford unusual inducements of Safety and Profit to Investors, for the following among other reasons, viz:

First. The rate of interest is Six per Cent. in Gold, payable semi-annually in the city of New York.

Second. The Principal is payable in Gold at maturity.

Third. The cost of the Bonds, Ninety-five Per Cent. and accrued interest, is Ten Per Cent. less than that of the cheapest Six Per Cent. Gold Bearing Bonds of the Government.

Fourth. The United States Government provides nearly half the amount necessary to build the entire road, and looks mainly to a small percentage on the future traffic for re-payment.

Fifth. Owing to this liberal provision, accompanied with Extensive Grants of Public Lands, by which the Government fosters this great national enterprise, its success is rendered certain, and its financial stability is altogether independent of the contingencies which attend ordinary Railroad enterprises.

Sixth. The Security of its First Mortgage Bonds is therefore ample, and their character for safety and reliability is equalled only by that of the obligations of the Government itself.

Seventh. The net earnings of the completed portion are already largely in excess of the interest obligations which the Company will incur on twice the distance, and are steadily increasing, rendering the uninterrupted payment of the Interest absolutely certain.

Eighth. At the present rate of Gold they pay nearly 8½ Per Cent. per annum, on the amount invested.

The Bonds are issued in denominations of $1,000 with semi annual gold Coupons attached, payable in New York, and are offered for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest (in currency) from January 1st.

Orders may be forwarded to us direct, or through the principal Banks and Bankers in all parts of the country.

Remittances may be made in drafts on New York, or in Legal Tender Notes, National Bank Notes or other funds current in this city, and the Bonds will be forwarded to any address by express, free of charge. Inquiries for further particulars, by mail or otherwise, will receive punctual attention.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital 500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.
The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.
The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

CITY MATTERS.

The Hope Fire Company.—At the fire in Duquesne borough on Monday afternoon, the Hope steamer secured its supply of water direct from the river, and although all the hose belonging to the company was in use not a single section was bursted. The steamer remained in service as its services were required.

Brakeman Killed.—A young man named Joseph Martin, who resided at Bolivar, and who was employed as a brakeman of a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was instantly killed a few days since by his head striking a bridge near Mill-wood, in Westmoreland county. He was walking on the top of a car, when he was struck by the bridge.

Rev. Dr. Preston, of St. Andrew's Church, has been obliged to cut short his visit to the East by the resignation of the Assistant Rector Mr. Snively, which was accepted by the Vestry on Monday. He is expected to preach on the ensuing Sabbath. The congregation of St. Andrew's Church have had in contemplation the erection of a new church, and we learn that the work is expected to commence as soon as the plans can be prepared and the contracts made.

Felonious Assault.—A difficulty occurred last night between two men named Charles F. Brown and John Hamilton, connected with Haight & Chambers's Circus, during which Brown cut Hamilton severely on the head and face. Brown was arrested by the police and locked up and Hamilton was taken to Dr. McDonald's office, on Penn street, where his wounds were dressed. The case will be investigated this morning.

Oil Train Destroyed by Fire.—A little after dark on Friday night last, six car loads of oil took fire as the train was coming down the mountain near Kittaning Point, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and about two hundred barrels burned up. The flames illuminated the entire valley between the Allegheny and Brush Mountains, and formed one of the most beautiful sights imaginable. It is not known how the oil took fire, but it is supposed it caught from a spark of the locomotive. The loss to the railroad company will be heavy. Almost an eighth of a mile of track was destroyed, the ties burned, and the rails twisted in various shapes.

Accidents on the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad.—Our attentive correspondent "J. L." at Rochester, sends the following: A man by the name of Robert McMitchel, in the employ of Barnes & Co., brickmakers, at Boalesville, while sitting on the track yesterday morning, was struck by a passing train, breaking his spine and otherwise injuring him. He is considered in a critical condition.

A traveler by the name of Winters, while walking on the track below Freedom, Beaver county, yesterday morning, in order to avoid the New Brighton accommodation, which was going towards the city, stepped upon the north track, when he was struck by the Erie Express coming down. He was severely cut on the head, but not dangerously injured.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Court of Common Pleas—Before Judge Stowe.

The case of W. T. Lindsay vs. Thomas Lindsay, reported yesterday, has not been concluded.

Before Judge Sterrett.

Solomon Simon vs. Union Line Express Company. This was an action to recover the value of two boxes of goods, alleged to be worth three thousand dollars, delivered to defendants by plaintiff for shipment from Canton, Ohio, to Pittsburgh. After the case had proceeded some distance, plaintiff took a non-suit and the jury was withdrawn.

John P. Vance vs. James O'Neal & Co. This was an action to recover amount alleged to be due on a book account. On trial.

District Court.—Before Judge Hampton.

This morning in the case of Long, Miller & Co., vs. the Standard Petroleum Refining Company, the Court ordered a judgment of non-suit to be entered against the plaintiffs, on the ground that they had not given sufficient evidence to enable them to maintain the action. Leave was given them to move the Court in banc to set aside the judgment of non-suit.

J. P. Welton vs. J. H. Hopkins and M. D. Modegan. Action to recover damages for injuries to a house on Diamond street, owned by plaintiff by blasting while excavating a cellar on ground adjoining that owned by Mr. Hopkins. On trial.

New School House in Allegheny.

Messrs. J. C. Patterson & Co., builders, have commenced the work of building a new public school house in the second precinct of the Fourth ward, Allegheny. The Board of School Directors decided that the educational interests of Allegheny demanded the erection of a new school house, and accordingly purchased a lot on Liberty street, at the corner of Chestnut street. The site is well located, and fronts one hundred feet on each street. The building will be built of brick, three stories in height, and will have a front of eighty feet on Liberty street, running back sixty-seven feet. The first and second stories will be divided into commodious recitation rooms, a hall running through the center of the building. The third story will contain a large hall, for the purpose of holding exhibitions and public exercises. The roof will be made of slate, and a fine cupalo, containing a bell, will be furnished. The cost of the building and furniture will be about $35,000, and the grounds cost $20,000, making the total expense $55,000. The plan of the building was drawn by Barr & Moser. The Legislature last winter passed an act authorizing the Board of Directors to borrow $20,000 to assist in defraying the necessary expenses. The stone work has been finished and the brick work will be commenced this week. The building will be under roof and plastered by next fall. It is to be finished and occupied by the first of April next.

National Temperance League of Allegheny City.

This League held a regular meeting last evening, in the First United Presbyterian Church, (Rev. John T. Pressly, D. D.,) Allegheny City.

The Rev. John B. Clark, D. D., was called to preside, and Mr. Charles Wattley appointed Secretary.

The Special Committee appointed at the last meeting, to consider the question of making the League auxiliary to the Allegheny Temperance Union, reported favorably. The report was adopted, and the League will hereafter be known by the title of the Allegheny City Temperance League.

The Rev. A. H. Hodge, and Rev. J. W. Baker were then introduced, and made effective addresses in favor of the temperance reform movement.

Mr. L. H. Eaton stated that in April eighty-one licenses, and in May one hundred and ninety licenses were granted by the County Commissioners.

The Rev. A. K. Bell, D. D., moved that the editors of the daily papers in Pittsburgh be respectfully requested to publish at their earliest convenience, a verbatim copy of the new license law as it now appears on the statute book. This motion was adopted. Messrs. David Blair, Charles Wattley and G. W. Bradley were appointed to prepare a list of officers for the League.

The meeting then adjourned with religious exercises. The annual meeting will take place on the first Tuesday evening in June, at the Sandusky street Baptist Church, Allegheny city.

Soldiers' Monument—Meeting of the Association—The Coming Fair.

The Ladies' Monumental Association met in City Hall yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. R. Robinson, from the Committee on Art Gallery, reported the following donations, viz: Mr. Geo. Hetzel, one painting; Mr. C. M. Johns, one painting; Mr. Trevor McClurg, one painting; Mr. A. Wall, three paintings; Mr. Laroman, one painting; Mr. Thomas Bell, two paintings; Mr. Hazeltine, one painting; Mr. W. Wattles, a pair of Parian marble statuettes; Mr. John McCargo, two busts.

Messrs. Gillespie, Boyd, Lyons and Young contributed frames for paintings and pictures.

Mr. Geo. H. Liethead, of East Birmingham, contributed four large lithographs of President Lincoln, accompanied by a beautiful poem.

Messrs. C. M. Johns and Stanley Reinhart will have the arrangement of the paintings and pictures in the gallery.

The committee on Relics and Curiosities respectfully requests persons having such articles, for the loan of them for exhibition during the Fair. Some members of the committee will be in attendance at City Hall during Monday and Tuesday, the 27th and 28th inst., to receive and take care of any articles that may be sent in.

The committee on chair for the most popular post of the Grand Army of the Republic, reported that they had procured a very fine chair, which was now on exhibition at Mr. Young's, on Smithfield street.

The dressing gown for the most popular soldier in Allegheny county, can be seen in Mr. Gray's window, Fifth street.

Mr. J. Hillerman was appointed to make collections for Pitt township.

The Decorating Committee submitted their plan for approval, which they hope to have so far completed by next meeting as to enable the association to assign the booths. It is hoped all concerned will make it convenient to be present at the meeting on Thursday afternoon, at half-past two o'clock in city Hall.

The Contest for Prothonotary.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

When consenting, at the request of numerous personal and political friends, to become a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Prothonotary, I determined to conduct the present canvass in a fair and honorable manner, and I expected like conduct upon the part of my opponents. For some weeks I have silently submitted to the unjust and persistent attacks of Mr. D. C. Hultz and his principal fugleman. The false statement, at first privately but industriously circulated by them, to the effect that at the Convention wherein I was nominated for the office of Prothonotary, a private arrangement was made whereby Mr. Hultz was withdrawn and transferred his delegates to me in consideration of a promise on my part that I would not be a candidate for re-nomination in opposition to him, has been recently published in an indirect and vague (but none the less evident) manner in the advertising columns of a city paper.

I now pronounce the statement untrue in every particular. I do not believe that Mr. Hultz owned, or was able to buy, or sell, any of the delegates in that Convention, and I consider the charge so unwarrantably made, an insult as well to the honorable gentlemen who supported me as to myself. Such statements have been privately made, as well as vaguely insinuated through anonymous advertisements; but no reputable or honorable man can be produced to substantiate them. The absurdity of such an arrangement is apparent to every person acquainted with the facts.

There were four candidates before the Convention, namely, Thomas Steel, Esq., George Finley, Esq., Mr. D. C. Hultz and myself. Esquire Steel was honorably withdrawn before a vote was taken. Upon the first and only ballot the vote stood thus:

D. C. Hultz	14 votes.
George Finley	17 "
Jacob H. Walter	123 "

If Mr. Hultz was then in the market, I certainly did not buy him, and his friends were too insignificant in numbers to amount to a merchantable commodity. If in politics, as in commerce, the scarcity of an article enhances its value, Hultz's votes should have been held at a high figure by the man who had but fourteen votes against my one hundred and twenty-three.

All persons who desire to test the fairness of this statement are respectfully referred to the files of the Pittsburgh daily papers of August 4, 1864, where they will find the report of the proceedings of the Convention which nominated me by a free and unpurchased vote, so generous and large that I may be pardoned for referring to it as one of the proudest and most cherished events in my public life.

JACOB H. WALTER.

Pittsburgh, May 21, 1867.

Institution for the Blind.

The successful efforts made in the Pennsylvania Institution at Philadelphia for Instructing the Blind, are now being illustrated to the citizens of Pittsburgh by concerts and exhibitions by forty of the pupils and teachers. It is many years since a visit of this kind has been made, and the opportunity of witnessing such remarkable and gratifying results should not be neglected. The musical performances, conducted by Carl Sentz, comprise specimens of the best composers, by the orchestra and chorus, and the methods of instruction are exhibited and explained with the apparatus. Notwithstanding the important and most beneficial results to the blind of the State appropriations to this Institution, there are still many indigent blind children in the western counties of the State, whose friends have never applied for their admission. This is the object chiefly of this visit to awaken an interest in behalf of such afflicted and neglected children, that they may be provided for at the expense of the State, where they have no means of their own to secure this benefit. An exhibition will be given this afternoon at three o'clock, for children and others, and a concert to-night, at Lafayette Hall.

Meeting of Allegheny Councils.

A special meeting of the Allegheny City Councils was held last evening in their respective chambers.

Select Council.—The members present were Messrs. Brown, Dunn, English, Hall, Irwin, Motherel, Myler, Pace, A. D. Smith, Wm. Smith, Thomas and President McBrier.

THE SMITH HORSE TRANSACTION.

The President stated that the object of the meeting was to take action on the C. C. Smith horse transaction. Some time ago, it will be remembered, Mr. Smith traded two of the horses of the Gen. Grant Fire Company for two others, and paid two hundred and fifty dollars bonus out of his own funds. As the city did not authorize the "trading" of property, Mr. Smith's claim was refused, and hence the present meeting to consider the matter.

Mr. Myler then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose be authorized to compromise the law-suit now pending between the city and C. C. Smith, Esq. The basis of the compromise to be that the city is to retain the two gray horses and the one black horse now being used by the Gen. Grant Fire company, and that C. C. Smith is to pay all costs incurred in the suit—the city paying to Mr. Smith $525, and the city to pay for the keeping of the horse at Mr. Wilson's stables.

After considerable debate, Mr. Drum moved that the resolution be referred to the Finance Committee—in conjunction with the City Solicitor, with full power to act.

A lengthy debate then ensued on Mr. Drum's motion, when Mr. Brown offered an amendment, which was accepted by Mr. Drum, that the matter be referred to the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose with full power to act. The motion was then unanimously adopted.

On motion of Mr. Myler, the rules were suspended in order to take up other business.

VIEWER APPOINTED.

Mr. Myler moved that R. R. Ray, of the Third Ward, be appointed viewer on the opening of Page and other streets in the Fifth Ward, in place of Mr. Morgan, resigned. The motion was adopted.

THE WOODEN BUILDING ORDINANCE.

Mr. English presented a petition from Messrs. Spang, Chalfant & Co., asking permission to weather-board an iron warehouse on Sandusky street.

Mr. A. D. Smith moved that the prayer of the petitioner be granted.

Mr. Drum moved to amend by referring the petition to the Committee on Wooden Buildings, with power to grant the request.

The question was discussed by Messrs. Thomas, Hall, Myler and others, when the amendment of Mr. Drum was adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr. Irwin presented a communication relative to the purchase of furniture for the City Regulator's office. The matter was referred to the Committee on City Property, with authority to purchase whatever furniture may be necessary.

Mr. Myler presented a petition from the citizens of the Fourth ward, praying for the erection of a gas lamp on the corner of Sandusky street and River avenue. Referred to the Committee on Gas Lighting.

Mr. Myler presented an additional ordinance defining the duties of the Recording Regulator. Adopted.

NEW HOSE.

The same gentleman offered a resolution, authorizing the purchase of two thousand feet of leather hose, to be equally apportioned among the companies belonging to the Fire Department. On motion, the resolution was referred to the committee on Fire Engines and Hose.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr. Drum offered a resolution, instructing the Committee on Water to have all the digging and filling necessary in putting down water pipes done by contract. Referred to the Committee on Water.

Mr. Irwin presented a bill from Messrs. Fackiner & Irwin, for furnishing new desks and chairs for the Council Chambers, for $584, as per contract. On motion the Controller was authorized to certify a warrant for the amount.

The resolution passed by Common Council on the 23d of April, providing for two stated meetings of Councils monthly, was non-concurred in.

The resolution relative to the use of water outside the city limits, passed in Common Council on April 15th, was non-concurred in.

GRADING OF LACOCK STREET.

Mr. A. D. Smith offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Streets be, and they are hereby instructed to place under contract the grading and paving of that part of Lacock street where it intersects the canal.

GAS LAMP IN THE FIFTH WARD.

Mr. Thomas offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Gas to erect a gas lamp on the corner of Fulton street and Ohio Avenue, in the Fifth Ward. Read and referred to the Committee on Gas to report.

On motion, Council adjourned.

Common Council.—The members present were Messrs. Cutler, Dunham, Drennan, Dill, Faulhauber, Hanna, Harper, Ingham, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, Means, McDonald, McNeill, Slagle, Voegtly, Windsor and President Riddle.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Ingham, the rules were suspended in order to take up other business.

REMONSTRANCE.

Mr. Kirkpatrick presented a remonstrance from the residents and property owners of Monterey street against the changing of the grade of Carroll and Jackson streets, so that the water which is now carried down the entire length of those streets, will be turned off into Monterey street and North Avenue. On motion, the paper was referred to the committee on Streets and Sewers.

THE POSTOFFICE AT MANCHESTER.

Mr. Dill offered the following:

Resolved, That the Councils request the Postmaster General to dispense with the Postoffice in the Fifth ward (West Manchester), and extend the letter carrier system to the Fifth ward.

On motion, the resolution was adopted. S. C. concurred.

GAS LAMP IN SECOND WARD.

Mr. Kirkpatrick presented a petition from the citizens of the Second ward, praying for the erection of a gas lamp on the corner of Jackson street and Shields alley. On motion the petition was referred to the Committee on Gas.

THE HORSE QUESTION.

Mr. Ingham moved that the resolution reported from Select Council having in view the compromise of the horse case, be laid on the table. The motion was lost.

Mr. Hanna then moved that Common Council non-concur with the action of Select Council.

A lengthy discussion was then entered into on Mr. Hanna's motion, which resulted in its adoption, by the following vote: Yeas—Cutler, Dunham, Dill, Hanna, Harper, Ingham, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, Means, McDonald, McNeill, Windsor and President Riddle—13. Nays—Faulhauber, Drennan, Smith, Slagle, Voegtly—5. So the non-concurrence was agreed to.

Mr. Slagle offered a resolution that the horse question be referred to the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose, with power to act.

Mr. Hanna moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

A vote was then taken on Mr. Slagle's motion, which resulted in its defeat by a tie vote, as follows: Yeas—Dunham, Brennan, Faulhauber, Megraw, McDonald, McNeill, Smith, Slagle and Voegtly—9. Nays—Cutler, Dill, Hanna, Harper, Ingham, Kirkpatrick, Means, Windsor and President Riddle—9.

MORE NEW HOSE.

Mr. D. L. Smith offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose be instructed to purchase five hundred feet of hose for each of the four fire companies of the city.

On motion, Council adjourned.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

CROSS-SUITS.

Matilda Laughlin and Margaret Brennan entered cross-suits yesterday for breach of the peace. The parties reside in the First Ward, and each accused the other of using violent and obscene language, and disturbing the public peace. Margaret was held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars to keep the peace, and Matilda was discharged on payment of costs.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

[Before Alderman Lynch.]

FIGHT ABOUT THE BOAT RACE.

B. O. Donaghan appeared at the office of this magistrate yesterday afternoon, and lodged an information for assault and battery against one John Webb. The parties, it appears, got into a dispute at the Monongahela House yesterday afternoon about the boat race, which resulted in a quarrel, when, it is alleged, Webb struck Donaghan quite severely. A warrant was issued.

LARCENY AS BAILEE.

Thos. McCambry was arrested on a charge of larceny as bailee, preferred by Wm. McLaughlin. McCambry, it is stated, took a hat belonging to McLaughlin by mistake, but afterwards refused to return it. The accused was held for a hearing.

FIVE INFORMATIONS.

Jane Morrison appeared yesterday and made five information, charging John Walls with selling liquor without license, and keeping a bawdy house, and Margaret McWilliams, Caroline Foreman and Maria Zigler, with assisting and maintaining a bawdy house. Walls keeps a saloon on a boat, moored in the Allegheny river, at the foot of Etna street, in the Fifth ward, and is accused of having sold liquor without license on Monday last and at divers other times, and keeping a disorderly house, where persons of a lewd character congregate for unlawful purposes. Warrants were issued.

[Before Alderman Thomas.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Joseph Richards made information before Alderman H. J. Thomas, against one John Nighthour, for committing an assault and battery on his little boy, Wm. Richards. A warrant has been issued.

Ogden, Esq., No. 59 Fifth street, to-day. The steel from which it is manufactured is from the well known firm of Hussey, Wells & Co., and is of superior quality. We have no doubt the establishment of Mr. Ogden will be thronged with visitors and purchasers to examine this knife and to purchase from the large assortment he has on hand. Country dealers will do well to call at this establishment and buy their knives from first hands.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Tuesday Evening, May 21, 1867.

There was only a moderate demand at the banks to-day for loans. A good deal of paper maturing must necessarily be renewed, but it is of the strongest character. The business at all our banks is of such an extent as to employ their whole line, and there is a disposition to let out to the extent of their means.

—The gold premium is pretty steady at the ruling rates it has, in a great measure, settled down to. The export of specie, as usual in May, is on the increase. The shipments are large, but not so considerable by one-half a the movement of the corresponding period last year—the condition of the English money market being wholly reversed. The difference will be still more remarked as we advance to the close of the fiscal year on 30th June. But the current export demand has been sufficient to maintain the price of gold at a higher point than was anticipated in some financial quarters on the reassurance of peace in Europe week before last. The summer traveling credits contribute largely to this demand, while the actual inquiry for exchange from the import trade is comparatively moderate.

—Governments to-day are a fraction off. The New York quotations to Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co., show the following figures:

U. S. 6s, 1881	111⅛
U. S. 5-20s, 1862	109⅞
U. S. 5-20s, 1864	106¾
U. S. 5-20s, 1865, May and November	106½
5-20s, 1865, January and July	108
U. S. 10-40s	99¼
December Compounds, 1864	116½
August 7-30s	106⅛
June 7-30s	105⅞
July 7-30s	105⅞
Gold	137⅜

—The Tribune reports the Railway share market as lower, and business wholly confined to professional operators and speculative holders, looking for some one to buy stocks, picked up on the strength of the growing wheat crop. The public argues that before the wheat crop is harvested "legal tender" will be scarcer than at present, money dearer, and stocks a good deal lower, cheap as they now seem, and sure as their dividends are announced to be.

—The quotations to-day up to noon, as received by Mr. Bryan, are as follows:

Michigan Southern	68
Cleveland & Pittsburgh	74½
P., F. Wayne & Chicago	96¼
Erie	62⅜
Chicago & Rock Island	88⅜
Chicago & Northwestern	34½
Chicago & Northwestern preferred	59⅝
New York Central	98¾
Reading	103⅝

—The following stock sale took place last evening, on the second floor of the Commercial Sales Rooms, 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIlwaine, auctioneer: Allegheny National Bank $59 00.

—The Railroad earnings of May confirm the statements that there is no grain at the West, and that the roads will have a starving time this summer. Thus the Michigan Southern, which fell off some $8,000 in the first week of May, falls off over $10,000 in the second week. The Rock Island, which fell off $12,000 in the first, compares, in the second, against a very light week last year, and only falls off about $6,000. The Chicago and Northwestern, on 149 miles, increased mileage, increased $16,168 in the first week and $33,602 in the second. The directors calculated on an increase of $100,000 a week: the earnings are thus $150,000 below the estimates for the two weeks. The decrease will go on till the new crop comes in next September. The Cleveland and Toledo shows the first week in May a decrease of $6,300.

—Much comment has been made in regard to a new and free supply of old 5-20 bonds upon the street. The Treasurer has still power to sell bonds maturing in 1882, which may help those interested in accounting for new bonds. He has power to sell any kind of 5-20s of which he has the plates ready, and like a good merchant may as properly sell those most fashionable and profitable to him. The Secretary is thoroughly in earnest about funding, and is accomplishing much under the present ease in money. Next month the compound notes commence to mature, and contraction of legal tenders will be more marked.

—A gentleman who was in New Orleans during the excitement attending the suspension of the First National Bank, describes the feeling as having been very intense. The City National Bank was heavily run upon immediately after the failure of the First, and during the 13th, 14th and 15th inst., paid out $610,000 of a deposit of $675,000. This was indeed a heavy pull, not a check having been refused. At 1 o'clock on the 15th, the tide began to turn, and before the close of bank hours $110,000 of the amount drawn was redeposited. The attack the bank has stood will doubtless strengthen it and give it a still better position than it has heretofore enjoyed.

—S. S. Bryan, Broker in Government, Railway and other Bonds, and Bank and Railway Stocks, &c., Apollo Building, Fourth street. Orders for the purchase and sale of stocks executed at the New York, Philadelphia and Boston Stock Boards at the regular rates of commission current in those cities.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

Office of the Pittsburgh Commercial, Tuesday Evening, May 21, 1867.

There were no features worthy of special notice in our general market to-day. Trade continues dull. The flour market was only moderately active, at previous quotations. Corn was inactive. There is a demand for rye. Eggs are scarce and higher.

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce, per river and rail, since our last were as follows: Flour 2,450 bbls; cheese 60 boxes; corn 2,507 sacks; wheat 2,317 sacks; rye 407 sacks, and oats 1,053 sacks.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale prices, unless otherwise stated:

Butter—Prices remain the same as last quoted. The market is dull. We quote rates nominal, ranging from 15@20c ℔ lb. We note sales of 20 packages at 15@18c, and 6 packages at 20c ℔ lb.

Beans—The market is not well supplied with choice articles. We quote prime small white selling at $2 75@3 00 ℔ bush.

Cheese—We quote new W. R. Cheese selling from store at 14@16c ℔ lb. and factory at 16c ℔ lb.

Eggs—Receipts light and prices higher. We note sales of 10 bbls at 20c, and 7 do at 18@19c per dozen.

Fruit—Choice Green Apples are scarce, and command, readily, $7 00@8 00 ℔ bbl. Dried Apples and Peaches are in good supply and sell at nominal prices, ranging from 8@10c ℔ lb for apples and from 12@20c ℔ lb for peaches.

Flour—The market is less active and receipts have been more liberal, amounting, since our last, to 2,450 bbls against 1,107 bbls the day previous. Holders, for the present, are diposed to handle at small margins. One of our leading houses made some heavy sales at prices without particular change from our last quotations, but the brands were all reliable and well known. We quote choice Spring brands at $14 75@15 00 ℔ bbl.

Rye Flour—We quote, from store, at $9 50 ℔ bbl.

Corn Meal—Prices are generally $1 20 ℔ bush.

Grain—The receipts of wheat have been more liberal, but on account of millers, and we are without any reports of sales in this market. Prices are entirely nominal.

Corn—The market was not very active. We have reported sales of 700 bush shelled, to arrive, at $1 05 ℔ bush.

Oats—Sales reported of 400 bush, on the track, at 62c, and 200 bush, from store, at 65c ℔ bush.

Rye—The demand is good, and receipts light. We quote at $1 65@1 68 ℔ bush.

Hay—Sales of 10 loads, per country wagon, at $25@28 per ton.

Provisions—A moderate trade is doing. We quote packer's prices as follows: Shoulders 9½@9¾c; sides 11½c; clear sides 12½c; hams 14c for plain, and 15¼@15½c for sugar cured; canvassed hams 16@16½c; dried beef 23c; Lard 13½c ℔ lb, and mess pork $23@23 50 ℔ bbl. We note sales of 800 lbs of country lard at 12c; 1,000 lbs do at 11c ℔ lb; 3,000 lbs clear sides at 11c, and 2,000 lbs at 10½c ℔ lb.

Whisky—We quote city rectified at $2 15, and Highwines at $2 28 per gallon. A sale of 25 barrels Monongahela was made at $3 per gallon.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

Office of the Pittsburgh Commercial, Tuesday, May 22, 1867.

Business was dull. The disposition among buyers was to hold off, at least for the present. Prices, however, have undergone no change. We quote crude oil in bulk and barrels returned, at 7c; packages included, 12c. The stock on hand is not large. There were no receipts worth noting. We did not learn of a single transaction for present or future delivery.

Refined Oil—The market was quiet, dealers manifesting no disposition to operate at the present time at least to any extent. The only sale that came under our notice was 1,000 barrels bonded, Philadelphia delivery, July, at 28½c. Other lots were under negotiation, but had not been consummated when we left the market. The Eastern and European markets being dull, produces a depressing effect on dealers here.

Free Oil—We have nothing new to notice in regard to this article. The only transactions reported were for local purposes at 40@41c for standard white and 39c for light straw to white.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CHICAGO

The receipts of cattle during the past week were 6,617 head, against 8,720 head the previous week. The shipments were 6,423 head against 6,933 head the previous week. Saturday evening closed another active, and to drovers, says the Republican, a highly profitable week. There was a good demand each day for almost every grade and quality of cattle, and the receipts being rather light, the yards were kept well cleared. On Monday and Tuesday, the closing prices of last week ruled without quotable change, but on Wednesday an advance of 15@25c ℔ 100 lbs on shipping, and 5@10c on all other grades was realized. On Thursday and Friday, the Eastern advices were not of an encouraging tenor, and shippers were backward about entering into heavy operations; the market, consequently, ruled somewhat quiet, yet under a light supply of stock the closing prices of Wednesday evening were tolerably well sustained on all sales reported. The bulk of the shipping offerings were taken for Albany, New York, Buffalo, and Pittsburgh, though a considerable amount of stock was purchased for Boston, Detroit, Toledo, Baltimore, and other Eastern points. The stock offerings were taken up chiefly by feeders from Ohio and Pennsylvania, yet those from Indiana and portions of our own State were generous operators. City butchers were, of course, the principal local purchasers. "Springers" and milch cows were in light demand, and the offerings, which were correspondingly light, were well taken up at prices ranging from $55@75 for good to choice, and $30@50 for common to fair grades.

On Saturday the market ruled very quiet, there being only a few city butchers and yard speculators in attendance. The closing prices of Friday evening were well sustained on the few sales reported. The entered sales foot up to 222 head. About 170 head, mostly thin cows and scallawag steers, remain over unsold. Our present quotations are based upon the actual transactions of the past week, and, unless the receipts happen to be exceedingly heavy, we confidently believe that they will be fully sustained during the coming week.

CATTLE QUOTATIONS.

First Class—Embracing really choice steers and spayed heifers, averaging from 1,300 to 1,450 lbs, may be quoted at	$8 75@9 25
Second Class—Embracing straight, smooth, well-fatted steers and spayed heifers, averaging from 1,200 to 1,300 lbs, may be quoted at	$8 25@8 70
Third Class—Embracing steers and spayed heifers in pretty good condition, averaging from 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, with no rough cattle among them, may be quoted at	$7 60@8 20
Fourth Class—Embracing fat steers, averaging 1,000 to 1,100 lbs, may be quoted at	$7 00@7 50
Fifth Class—Embracing good butchers' and packers' and stock cattle, averaging from 1,075 to 1,125 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 80@7 35
Sixth Class—Embracing light stock steers, averaging from 800 to 900 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 35@6 75
Seventh Class—Embracing good, smooth, fat cows, weighing from 1,000 to 1,100 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 80@7 35
Eighth Class—Embracing fair cows, in medium flesh, weighing from 850 to 1,000 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 00@6 75
Ninth Class—Embracing light cows, scallawag steers, stags, and bulls, may be quoted at	$4 50@5 00

Hogs—The receipts for the week were 21,024 head against 17,420 head the previous week. The shipments were 18,998 head against 17,299 head the previous week. During Monday and Tuesday, this market ruled at an advance of 15@25c ℔ 100 lbs over the closing range of last week. On Wednesday, the Eastern advices were of a discouraging nature to shippers, and, the supply of stock being very heavy, prices receded 5@10c. On Thursday, the Eastern advices were still worse, and prices took another downward turn to the tune of 10@15c. On Friday, a still further decline of 5@10c was suffered. On Saturday, the advices were rather better from the East, and the market ruled quite active throughout at an advance of 5@10c ℔ 100 lbs over the closing range of last evening. About 400 head, mostly good grades, remain over unsold. The bulk of the sales this week were made to New York, Buffalo, Boston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and Baltimore men; yet almost every other Eastern point was well represented on the sale books. The market closed firm at the following figures:

HOG QUOTATIONS.

First Class—Including extra prime, fat hogs, averaging from 225 to 285 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 70@6 90
Second Class—Including coarse, fat hogs, averaging from 200 to 250 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 35@6 60
Third Class—Including good smooth, even hogs, averaging from 165 to 195 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 25@6 50
Fourth Class—Including mixed, uneven hogs, averaging from 165 to 195 lbs, may be quoted at	$6 00@6 20
Fifth Class—Including common and light stock hogs, averaging from 80 to 130 lbs, may be quoted at	$5 00@5 90

Sheep—The receipts for the week were 1,898 head and the shipments 3,124 head. This market ruled active throughout the week, and closes firm, at an advance of 25@50c ℔ 100 lbs over the closing range of the previous Saturday. The offerings each day were full liberal, but, under a healthy Eastern and local demand, were well taken up. We quote: Good to choice, $7 50@8 25; common to fair grades, $5 25@7 25.

LOUISVILLE.

At the Shelby House the market has been moderately active during the week, and prices have been about the same as the previous week. Good, fat butcher cattle are selling from 7½ to 8@8½c for extra; 6@7c for medium to good; and 4½ to 5@5½c for inferior grades.

Hogs—There is but little change since last week. Prices are about the same, and are selling from 6½@6¾c, and a few have been sold at 7c. The market is dull.

At the Bourbon House the supply was more liberal, and trade somewhat revived. Prices for the best quality of cattle are very firm, but the lower grades are a shade lower, and the general tendency of the market has a downward tendency. Sales for the best quality at 7½@8c; fair to good 6½@7c; ordinary 5½@6c; inferior 4@4½c.

Hogs—The market is overstocked, and the demand light. Sales range at 6½@7c for the best, and at 6@6½c for light stock, with a heavy stock on the market unsold.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

The market during the past week has exhibited no new features. The offerings have not been as large as for several weeks past, but the qualities have been about the same, and prices have been fully maintained, and we continue to quote:

JULES JARED'S "EMAIL DE PARIS," THE NEW BEAUTIFIER OF THE SKIN

Testimonials from Celebrated Ladies:

The secret of beautifying the Skin being known only to Messrs. Jared & Rene, they honestly state that it differs from all other preparations. It gives to the most harsh and freckled skin both the color and texture of polished ivory, removing all discolorations, whether appearing as freckles, tan, morphew, moth or black-worm specks, and is especially successful in smoothing out the marks left by small-pox.

The agents of "Email de Paris" most confidently submit to the public the earnest endorsements of such distinguished ladies as

Signora Ristori, M'lle Felicita Vestvali, Miss Maggie Mitchell, Mrs. D. P. Bowers, Lucille Western, Mad. Ponisi, Mrs. Emma Waller, Lucy Rushton, Noemie de Marguerittes, Miss Agnes Perry,

And many others, whose high standing in the profession gives the stamp of truthfulness to their intelligent and genuine approval.

The beautiful Lucille Western says:

I find that the "Email" produces all the brilliancy of rouge and lilly white, with the great and peculiar advantages of perfect harmlessness. It really adds to the softness and beauty of the skin.

The Magnificent Vestvali says:

I have suffered so much from the various white lotions, &c., which my theatrical profession obliges me to use, that I consider it a perfect benefaction to find a preparation which gives the necessary whiteness to the skin, and leaves the skin cool and smooth.

Miss Maggie Mitchell says:

I have tried the skin beautifier "L'Email de Paris," and found that it instantly imparts a natural bloom and freshness to the complexion.

"Jared Email de Paris" is used as a delicate beautifier of the skin for Theater, Saloon or Ball Room, by the most refined and scrupulous ladies; producing all the beautifying effects of rouge and lilly white, without their vulgar glare or injury to the skin.

Able, Peter Feldman and others, and valued at $30,000; insured in St. Louis for $20,000. No lives were lost.

The city of Alton turned over the horns to-day to the Lee.

St. Louis, May 21.—A private dispatch from Lake Providence, Louisiana, says the steamer Albert Pearce was burned near that place, this morning. No particulars given. The boat was valued at about $60,000.

Leni Leoti	Hamilton	Parkersburg.
Julia No. 2	Coulson	Cincinnati.
Lorena	Sherman	St. Louis.

The River and Matters Along the Wharf.—The weather yesterday was disagreeable. In the afternoon we had heavy rains. The Monongahela marks indicated six feet two inches. The Allegheny marks, seven feet two inches and falling. The principal excitement on the landing was the great boat race between Hamill and Brown, and it is to be regretted that the race is as yet not brought to a more satisfactory conclusion. The Lorena left for St. Louis with a good trip. The next boat in turn for that port is the new packet Glendale. She will have dispatch. The favorite steamer Julia No. 2, for Cincinnati, had an excellent trip. The Kenton is the only boat loading for Memphis and New Orleans. Passengers and shippers will do well to bear this in mind. The Cincinnati packet for this day is the steamer Argosy. She leaves on time. The Leni Leoti left for Parkersburg with a fair trip. She will be followed to-day by the Grey Eagle at noon. The Spray was detained yesterday by the unfavorable state of the weather. She leaves to-day positively, for Portsmouth.

The steamer Sherman passed Evansville on Sunday on her way to this port.

The steamer Spray was detained yesterday. She takes her departure this day positively for Portsmouth.

The towboat Boaz passed Evansville on Sunday, with a tow of fifteen barges of coal. Destination—New Orleans.

The fine side wheel packet Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan, leaves to-day at noon for Parkersburg and intermediate points. A good boat in charge of careful and attentive officers.

Thanks.—The officers of the Portsmouth packet Spray will accept our thanks for attention to this office. The Spray leaves at 4 P. M. this day for Portsmouth and intermediate points.

Ho! for the Sunny South.—The fine packet Kenton, Captain Dunlap, is announced for New Orleans direct, being her third trip this Spring. This boat is noted for superior accommodations and attentive officers. Call early and secure a stateroom.

The splendid passenger steamer Glendale, Captain Hare, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis on Wednesday. This boat is well found in every respect and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. To persons going that way a fine opportunity is presented. The first clerk is Captain James Mellon, one of the most accomplished officers that comes to this port.

The steamer Imperial was seized at St. Louis last Thursday by the United States Marshal. Thomas Halliday et al are libellants against said steamer in a cause, civil and maritime, for a demand of the sum of $102 30. She was partly loaded and will probably be bonded out.

Insurance on the Denver.—The amount of insurance on the steamer Denver, which was destroyed by fire at St. Joseph on Thursday, was as stated. She was insured for only $25,000, which was equally divided between the Central, Citizens', Union, Magnolia, Ohio Valley and Buckeye Companies, of Cincinnati.

The punctual packet Argosy, Captain Vandergrift, is the Cincinnati packet for this day. This boat makes her trips with great regularity and is a large favorite with passengers and shippers. The first clerk is Mr. Scott, one of the best officers that comes to this port.

Boats in Port at Cincinnati on Monday.—Westmoreland, Pine Grove, Lizzie Hopkins, Peerless, New York, Starlight, Ezra Porter, Wauanita, Armadillo, Ida Rees, Melnotte, Shamrock, Tahlequah, Havana, Emma No. 3, America, Silver Spray, Leonidas, Amazon, Anglo-Saxon, Clifton, Emerald, Darling, Wild Duck, Emma Floyd, W. F. Curtis, R. R. Hudson, Magnolia, Major Anderson and America.

The St. Paul Pioneer of Thursday says: There was but little doing on the river yesterday. Freighting both up and down is dull. The grain for export in this State is in very small quantities, while merchants have mostly got their spring stocks. The stage of water continues good. As yet we have not heard of a single "sand-bar" grumble from any of the river men. The river was rising very slowly yesterday—the result of the recent heavy rains. Small streams tributary to the Upper Mississippi are reported very high, and we learned, from a gentleman just in from St. Cloud, that the river had raised over a foot at that point.

Nashville.—The Banner of Saturday says: "The river is at a stand, with three feet eight inches on the shoals. At 4 o'clock on the morning of the 15th, as the Tempest was passing Seven Mile Island, a short distance above Clarksville, a coal barge which she had in tow struck a snag and sunk. The crew worked upon it about thirty hours and had partially raised it, when the current struck it and it was again sunk in from five to six feet of water. It had 2,000 bushels of coal, and also three mining cars. Parties have been sent to raise it, and the work will be accomplished in a few days."

St. Joseph.—The Leavenworth Times, of the 17th, furnishes the following particulars of the burning of the Denver at St. Joseph:

From Charles Collins, Esq., who came down from St. Joe yesterday, we regret to learn of the total destruction by fire of the Denver, belonging to the St. Joe and Omaha line. It occurred yesterday morning at 9½ o'clock. The fire caught from a pot of tar which was being boiled in the kitchen. A young man, in attempting to remove the pot, burned his fingers, when he let it drop on the stove and floor. In an instant the entire cabin was on fire, and in a few moments the boat was a mass of flames. Captain Burke [illegible] at the time, and saved nearly all the books and papers belonging to the boat. Captain B.'s family lost everything except what they had on; the officers and crew saved nothing. The Hannibal and St. Joe railroad depot came near burning. In less than half an hour from the time the fire commenced, the boat was burned to the boiler deck; the hull was but little burned. The Denver was one of the finest boats on the river; she was commanded by Captain Samuel Burke, of this city, and most of the officers and crew belong here. No lives were lost.
